Income Tax Payments Suffer Big Drop

TREASURY SAYS '39 COLLECTION MILLIONS LOWER

National Income For Year Under 1938; Change In Profits Levy Cited

YIELD ESTIMATE MADE

Returns Will Determine Whether New Fund Must Be Raised

WASHINGTON, March 15 — With the stroke of midnight tonight marking the deadline for filing of 1939 income tax returns, treasury officials today forecast a drop of approximately $230,000,000 in revenues from this source during the current fiscal year.

Two major factors are responsible for this reduction in anticipated revenues — lower national income during the last year and emasculation of the undistributed profits tax on corporation earnings.

As bulging mail sacks piled into the nation's 63 internal revenue collection offices, unofficial estimates placed the March income tax yield in the neighborhood of $650,000,000. An anticipated $350,000,000 additional in June is expected to bring income payments from individuals and corporations up to $1,950,000,000 for the 1940 fiscal year.

This represents a $229,000,000 decrease from last year. Corporation income taxes will be approximately $98,000,000 less than 12 months ago, while taxes on individuals are expected to register a drop of $127,000,000. Excess profits taxes will sag about $9,000,000 below the 1939 volume.

Dividend Payments Cut

Virtual repeal of the undistributed profits tax caused a considerable reduction in the amount of dividends paid out by corporations during 1939. These dividends would have been reflected in the tax returns of individuals.

The generally lower income levels that prevailed during 1939 are responsible for the sharp decrease in both corporation and individual taxes.

As in former years, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California, Michigan, Ohio and Massachusetts will account for well over half of the income tax revenues received by the treasury. New

COURT SUITS ASK $38,500 DAMAGE

Accident On Jackson Pike In Which Six Were Hurt Basis For Actions

A traffic accident on Route 104 last October 23 in which six persons riding in one automobile were injured was the basis Friday for four damage suits filed in Franklin County Common Pleas court against Virgil Swaney, 1451 Lockbourne Road, Columbus. The suits aggregated $38,500.

Swaney was driving an automobile which swerved in the highway and struck a guard rail, passengers in his machine being thrown into the roadway. All were painfully hurt, at least two of them believed at the time to have been fatally injured. All, however, recovered.

The suits include: $25,000 asked for Mary Ann Crawford, 4; $5,000 for Barbara Crawford, 3; $3,500 for Frances Bellomy, 19, and $5,000 for Rose Borror, 20. The Crawford children were reported at the time of the accident to have been most seriously injured.

Swaney and the party were on their way to Williamsport to visit with newly-married friends when the accident happened, state highway patrolmen who investigated said.

NORRIS WOULD FORGIVE FINNISH DEBT TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 15 — Nebraska's veteran independent senator, George W. Norris, suggested today that this nation "forgive" the rest of Finland's World War debt.

"I think we ought to forgive Finland the rest of its war debt to this country," Norris declared. "They need the money badly enough now for relief and rehabilitation."

He pointed out Finland has been the only nation to make regular payments on its debt. Other congressional leaders indicated sympathy for Norris' proposal.

Miss Esther Roehm To Be Lecturer For Big Event To Be Conducted Three Days In Auditorium Of Memorial Hall

Final arrangements for presenting another Cooking School, sponsored by The Circleville Herald and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., were completed Friday. The event, awaited each year by hundreds of Circleville and community housewives and others, will be conducted March 27, 28 and 29 in the auditorium of Memorial Hall. All sessions begin at 2 o'clock and all are free.

Leading Circleville merchants will cooperate in the Cooking School.

Miss Esther Roehm will be the food lecturer for the Cooking School. She will be assisted by Miss Dorothy Duncan, home service representative for the Gas Company, and K. A. Williams, who will be in charge of properties and program arrangements.

Program Planned

A program composed of three different sessions—one to be presented each day — has been arranged. Each day's program is filled with dramatic and entertaining demonstrations. During the three days practically every phase of modern cooking will be covered. The modern trends in menu planning, new time-saving methods, unusual food servings will be particularly emphasized.

The opening program, "Life Begins at Breakfast" will take up that much neglected, yet most important, meal which starts the day in every home. This program holds a number of dramatic surprises as well as an entirely new approach to the breakfast problem.

The second day's session—"The Meal of the Day"—is a continuation of the first day's program, dealing primarily with the ideas for serving the main meal of the day. A portion of the discussion, also, will be devoted to the preparation of children's dishes. Again, as in the first day, a dramatic skit will enliven the program. As a special feature the

CHARLOTTE, N. C. APARTMENT FIRE ENDS SIX LIVES

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 15 —Fire raged with unchecked fury through the uptown Guthery apartments in Charlotte today, claiming the lives of at least six persons and bringing serious injury to a dozen others, some of whom are not expected to live.

The disastrous blaze was first discovered shortly after 1 a. m. before fire-fighting apparatus could reach the scene the entire 3-story, 24-family structure had become an inferno of flame. A score or more families hurried into the wintry cold and damp streets clad only in their sleeping clothes.

Before fire and ambulance aid could go into action, many of the residents were trapped by the leaping flames. Some leaped from second and third story windows to the street.

Firemen on ladders rescued several of the occupants as they clung to window ledges to escape the flames and smoke.

The dead were tentatively identified as Miss Lucy Walton, Miss Rowena E. Dickerson, Mrs. Hazelle E. Martin, Edward Martin, Mrs. H. R. Eley and Tom Charity.

Damage to the building was estimated at $100,000.

Riffe, Brown And Storts Definitely In Contest For Sheriff's Job

NO SURPRISE NOTED

6:30 P. M. Is Final Hour To Submit Names For Primary Races

With the 6:30 p. m. Friday deadline looming nearer, ten more persons have filed their petitions with Claude Kraft, clerk of the Board of Elections, and no surprise candidates for nomination were in the group.

Three more petitions, crowding the Democratic ticket for the office of sheriff, were submitted. Harry Riffe, Lowell B. Brown and Worley Storts turned their petitions over to Kraft Friday morning.

Petitions of two more Democrats for the office of clerk of courts came across the clerk's desk. These two petitions, as the three for sheriff, are filed by Democrats in opposition to the Democratic incumbents. The two who have filed were Byron Eby and George C. Barnes.

A Democrat and Republican have both turned in the accumulated signatures for the office of county treasurer. Frank Anderson and Clyde Brinker are both attempting to replace Robert Colville in that office.

Mrs. Florence Campbell, Democrat, and Judge Lemuel Weldon, Republican, incumbent recorder and probate judge respectively, both filed.

Edward Kreisel, Republican, was the sole additional filer Friday for nomination on the Republican slate as county commissioner.

TEST OF SANITY TO DELAY TRIAL OF OHIO YOUTH

BELLEFONTAINE, March 15 —The first degree murder trial of Donald Slater, 18, for the slaying of Fred Jenkins, 51, on the night of February 1, scheduled to open next Monday, was postponed today by Common Pleas Judge Lawrence Zupp.

Defense Attorney Roy Roof, of Kenton, has indicated that he may request a mentality examination for the defendant, although one has not yet been asked, and it was for this reason that the trial was postponed.

Judge Zupp said that he might set a new trial date either tomorrow or Monday, but that Slater would not go on trial next week, nor would the slain man's widow, Mrs. Minnie Jenkins, or her son, Merlin, 18.

Jenkins, a telephone operator, was beaten to death with a hammer in his Huntsville home. His body was taken in an automobile to a point near Dayton where it was dumped into a roadside ditch.

Prosecutor J. Ewing Smith said that young Slater confessed the crime, saying that he killed Jenkins because of threats by the latter to harm his family.

TRUCKER FINED $10 FOR VIOLATION OF STOP SIGN

John F. Gray, Chillicothe trucker, paid a fine of $10 and costs in Squire B. T. Hedges' court Thursday afternoon following his arrest by State Highway Patrolman D. W. Miller at the intersection of routes 154 and 56.

Gray pleaded guilty to the charge that he failed to obey the stop sign on route 154 at the intersection in violation of a state highway law. The intersection is one where several accidental deaths have happened.

Sawyer, Heer in Strife Over Convention Slate

COLUMBUS, March 15 —Factional strife broke out again today in the ranks of Ohio Democrats over the selection of national convention delegates as the last of the primary candidates filed nominating petitions with the secretary of state. The deadline for filing was 6:30 p. m.

National Committeeman Charles Sawyer and Walter F. Heer, Franklin County Democratic chairman, could not agree on the selection of convention delegates in the 12th district, and Sawyer was reported as ready to name those of his own choosing.

Heer and the Democratic state organization have been at odds since the Franklin County chairman supported Martin L. Davey over Sawyer in the last gubernatorial campaign.

Meanwhile, Davey announced from his home in Kent that he would file nominating petitions containing 33,000 signatures, with all counties represented. He said it required only four days to obtain that many signatures, adding, "No doubt this sets a new record for the number of signers secured in so short a time."

Many Persons File

Those who had filed were Ex-Gov. George White, Marietta; Former Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, Columbus; Former Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, Cleveland; James Marker, Versailles, former highway director; Former Congressman Harold G. Mosier, Cleveland, and James F. Flynn, Sandusky attorney.

HOOVER'S FOES CHALLENGED TO COME INTO OPEN

WASHINGTON, March 15 — Senator Henry Ashurst (D) Arizona today challenged critics making attacks by "innuendoes and insinuation" of Chief G-Man J. Edgar Hoover to "come out into the open."

Ashurst, chairman of the senate judiciary committee and one of the most influential members of congress, said that Hoover's foes, now operating behind cover of a proposed senate investigation into wiretapping, should either demand a specific investigation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation specifically, or cease their whispering campaign.

The colorful senate veteran said that if those making covert attacks on Hoover would propose an investigation on those terms, he probably would vote for it, "because I believe the investigation would show no corruption, no violations of constitutional liberties."

"I don't know Mr. Hoover. I have never met him personally. I am judging him solely by his work. I believe he also would welcome a fair investigation because it would stop the attacks by insinuation."

American Emissary Learns English Compromise Out Of Question

LONDON, March 15 — Chancellor Hitler and Dictator Josef Stalin are planning a "blitzpeace offensive," the London Daily Express reported from Copenhagen today.

But the diplomatic correspondent of the London Daily Sketch wrote that American Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles, who is scheduled to confer again with Premier Mussolini in Rome before returning to the United States, will report to President Roosevelt that the chances are 1,000 to one against a negotiated peace in Europe under the present circumstances.

According to a Copenhagen report to the Daily Telegraph, political circles in Berlin said German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop soon will go to Moscow for joint Russo-German policy talks and to stir up a peace drive.

The Express said that as part of the asserted "blitzpeace offensive" Russian workers have been ordered to open a campaign of appeals to workers in the United States in the hope of bringing pressure on the Allies.

Four Steps Cited

Basing its information on a Berlin dispatch to the Copenhagen newspaper Politiken, the Express listed four steps in the alleged Russo-German "lightning peace" drive.

These steps were given as follows:

1—A Russo-Italian trade agreement along the lines of the Russo-German pact. (The Russian embassy in Rome yesterday denied negotiations for such a pact were under way.)

2—A Russo-Rumanian non-aggression pact.

3—A Russo-Turkish peace pact.

4—Efforts to swing Turkey away from her alliance with the Anglo-French Allies.

Hitler, said the dispatch, is aiming to insure Scandinavian and Balkan supplies to Germany to give him time to build up trade with Russia if he decides to post-

EXPOSURE CITED AS OHIO WOMAN DIES IN HER CAR

SPRINGFIELD, March 15 — Greene County Coroner H. C. Schick said today he would return a verdict of accidental death in the automobile crash near Fairfield which claimed the life of Mrs. Bessie Fessler, 46-year-old housewife.

Mrs. Fessler's body was found in the wrecked car last night, 24 hours after her companion, Mrs. Irene G. Schwab, 44, a sister, was found wandering along the road in a dazed condition.

Coroner Schick said investigation disclosed that the two women visited friends in Dayton Wednesday and had started for home. He said Mrs. Fessler had suffered a fractured skull but apparently died of exposure.

Mrs. Schwab still was unable to shed any light on the accident this morning. She suffered a broken collar bone and other injuries.

EVACUATION OF FINNS GOES ON IN CEDED AREA

About Sixth Of Population Must Find New Homes As Result Of Pact

HELSINKI SEES HOPES

Soldiers Leave Territory Turned Over To Soviet In Peace Agreement

HELSINKI, March 15—An official announcement that Finland, Sweden and Norway formally have agreed to resume their security negotiations stirred new hope in sorrowing Helsinki today as the nation pressed forward with its reconstruction work.

Evacuation of thousands of Finnish civilians from areas surrendered to Russia went forward as authorities sought new homes and means of sustenance for the 400,000 left homeless and destitute by the war with Russia.

By this morning the Hango Peninsula, leased by Russia for a naval base, has been totally evacuated by Finnish civilians. The population was being transported to the interior of the country in mile-long columns of trucks.

At the same time, in accordance with the peace treaty, Russian troops began their withdrawal from occupied areas of far northern Finland just south of Petsamo. Secret negotiations were reported under way with Finland's Scandinavian states aimed at a reconstruction loan. Finnish authorities said they expected this loan would materialize shortly.

Obstacles Faced

But it was clear that the defensive alliance among Finland, Sweden and Norway faced serious obstacles. Opposition was believed to be rising in both Sweden and Norway on grounds the proposed pact might offend Russia.

Nevertheless, Sweden and Norway have notified Finland of their willingness to "explore the possibilities" of a defensive pact.

(One Moscow dispatch said it was believed Russia would not object to a purely defensive pact among Finland, Norway and Sweden, provided nothing in it could be construed as directed against Soviet Russia.)

As the evacuation of the Carelian Isthmus began, a column of Finnish soldiers and civilians 25 miles long started the weary trek out of the territory ceded to Russia. These refugees are moving at the rate of eight miles a day toward the Finnish area northwest of Lake Ladoga.

Minister of Agriculture Koivisto, in charge of the evacuation, declared that some 470,000 Finns must seek new homes immediately, and added that this number represented nearly one-sixth of the population.

Not only people but domesticated animals are joining in the evacuation. No less than 50,000 cattle are moving from the territories handed over to the Soviets. The state is devoting 4,000,000 marks a day to finance the exodus, which is being carried out with the aid of military officials.

Since many families were broken up during the war, a special organization has been created to reunite children and their parents.

Black-Out Continues

Helsinki itself remained blacked-out at night despite the fact that hostilities have ceased.

Authorities asked the 200,000 residents of the city who were evacuated during the war to remain where they are until the evacuation of civilians from ceded districts has been completed. This system will mean less of a strain

GALLIPOLIS MAN IN CONTEST FOR APPEALS BENCH

Judge W. R. White of Gallipolis, Friday, made formal declaration of his candidacy for the District Court of Appeals by filing nominating petitions in Portsmouth.

His aspiration for election to the higher judicial position is supported by 19 years of experience as judge of the Common Pleas Court and his many assignments to a large number of counties in the state.

Judge White is a former president of the Common Pleas Judges' Association. He has continuously made the law his avocation following graduation from the Cincinnati Law School in 1902. Four terms as Gallipolis City Solicitor preceded two elections to the post of Gallia County Prosecuting Attorney, when he was chosen for Common Pleas Bench.

Long active in Gallipolis, he has recently been honored by selection as chairman of the Gallipolis Sesquicentennial Commission, a position requiring legal knowledge, personal poise and a wide knowledge of men and affairs.

EARL LEIST BACK HOME; MOTHER IS IN HOSPITAL

Earl Leist, Washington Township, injured Wednesday in the automobile accident at Warsaw, Ind., that proved fatal to Mrs. Lawrence Warner, was returned home Thursday evening. He is suffering from a cut over the right eye and loss of blood.

His mother, Mrs. Florence Leist, remains in the Warsaw hospital. She has a severe forehead cut and is suffering from numerous bruises. Mrs. Leist was unconscious for 12 hours after the crash of the Leist car with a truck on a slippery highway. Mrs. Leist will remain in the Warsaw hospital for the next 10 days, her son said.

on Finland's over-taxed communications, it was explained.

At present, all means of transportation are under control of the government.

Officials said they hoped that Finnish schools would be able to reopen after Easter.

A Finnish army sergeant who has just returned from Viborg told this correspondent that fighting on the Carelian Front continued until exactly two minutes before the armistice became effective, and that eight Finns in his company were wounded in the final hours of combat.

Non-commissioned officers knew of the peace agreement 90 minutes before the armistice went into effect, he said, but the soldiers were not informed until 20 minutes before the guns ceased firing.

Ashville Juror Excused Because Name Is Smith

Ashville, Phone 79

All belong to the same gang, the attorney thought. Seymour Smith while over at Steubenville serving as a juror in Mell Underwood's federal court last week, was excused from a case just because his name happened to be Smith. The case of a litigant by the same name was coming up for hearing and the jurors were being questioned as to their fitness to serve. When the opposing lawyer in the Smith case before the court, came to our juror Mr. Smith and found for a fact that that was his name, he was excused from serving because he said "they all belong to the same gang and stick together". We get this story from Mr. Smith himself.

AT THE CLIFTONA
ACCORDING to the man who is credited with being the one living person who knew Thomas Edison best, Mickey Rooney today is an exact reproduction of the great inventor as a boy.

Then is Francis Jehl, the only living man who saw Edison produce electric light. Mickey met him at Greenfield Village where Jehl is in charge of the restored Edison laboratory in the famous village constructed by Henry Ford.

Jehl, who is eighty, knew Edison as a boy and he told Mickey, "Don't let them change your type when you play young Tom. You are he, even to appearances. Tom was a cocky young fellow with his share of seriousness, just as you are on the screen."

The old man told Mickey that he has seen every one of Mickey's pictures because the young actor reminded him so much of Edison as a boy. "Andy Hardy is young Tom," he stated.

Mickey visited the famous Edison display in order to prepare himself for the title role in "Young Tom Edison," which opens Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre. In the cast are Fay Bainter, George Bancroft, Virginia Weidler and Eugene Palette. Norman Taurog directed.

OBSERVERS SEE CONTINUED COLD FOR WEEK END

Mercury Rests At 20 In Circleville Community; Snow Falling

ROADS GENERALLY GOOD

Normal Temperature For Time Of Year Figured At 40 Degrees

Circleville was experiencing another attack by King Winter Friday with snow falling and the temperature hovering in the vicinity of 20.

By International News Service
Temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees below normal prevailed throughout Ohio today, and forecasters could see only slight prospects for relief from the cold wave over the week end.

The mercury hovered around the 20-degree mark this morning, although the Port Columbus weather bureau reported that normal average temperature for this time of the year is about 40 degrees.

Hayesville reported a low of 19 degrees, Cleveland had a reading of 20, Akron, East Liverpool and Toledo 21, Columbus and Dayton 22, Cambridge 23 and Cincinnati 26.

Cloudy skies with possible light snow flurries were predicted for today, with the thermometer to remain below freezing. Tomorrow was to be fair with slightly rising temperatures.

With the exception of Ashtabula County, where the highways were covered with packed snow and ice, all roads in the state were in good condition, the highway patrol said.

Snow flurries were general throughout the night, but the fall did not exceed one-half inch.

TRAWLER SENDS GERMAN U-BOAT DOWN IN FIGHT

LONDON, March 15—A British trawler sank a German U-boat after a 17-hour running gun duel off the northeast coast of Scotland, authorities disclosed today.

It was stated that the trawler spotted and attacked the submarine with depth-charges. The U-boat, damaged, rose to the surface immediately and opened fire on the trawler, which replied.

The submarine then moved away at a speed of 16 knots. The trawler never had attained more than 15 knots.

Despite the fact that the trawler's engine rooms were partly flooded, the engineer, Leonard Westerdien, who holds a Distinguished Service Medal, risked shaking the bottom out of his ship and forced his engines until the vessel hit a speed of 18 knots, closing the gap between itself and its victim.

After 17 hours of fighting, the U-boat went to the bottom.

When the trawler limped into port it was found that its engines had shifted from their foundations owing to the terrific vibrations.

FINLAND MIGHT TRY OLYMPICS DESPITE FIGHT

HELSINKI, March 15—The chances that little war-ravaged Finland might through some Herculean effort yet stage the 1940 Olympics appeared exceedingly slim today.

It was considered hardly possible that the tiny republic could spare either the money or energy from its huge reconstruction task to stage the games.

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a broadcast last night from Helsinki, Edwin Hartrich, CBS Helsinki correspondent, said the possibility for staging the Olympics there was "very slight." He quoted Johann Rangel, head of the Finnish Olympic Committee, as stating the war rehabilitation tasks permitted no diversion of money for the games.)

It was believed the various Olympic buildings thus far constructed had all safely escaped the various war bombings. Finland has until April 1 to make its decision pro or con on the games and the little nation which stood off the big Russian army for so long and pays its debts while bigger and richer nations defaulted might possibly yet find a way to go through with the Olympics.

Calvary—Triumph Through Sacrifice

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 17 is Matthew 26:57-27:56, the Golden Text being Isaiah 53:3. "He was despised, and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief.")

AFTER JUDAS' betrayal of Jesus in Gethsemane, the Lord was bound and taken first to Annas, the high priest, Caiaphas' father-in-law. There is no account in the gospels of what transpired there. Then He was taken to Caiaphas. This man was head of the Sanhedrin, the highest court in Israel, composed of 70 Jewish men, all over 40 years of age, all scholars in their attainments and of unblemished reputation.

These men were resolved that Christ should die, but they made a semblance of trying Him, producing false witnesses, one of whom said Jesus had said, "I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days," a thing Jesus had not said.

The high priest asked Jesus if this were true and He held His peace, so Caiaphas asked Him, "I adjure thee, by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God." Jesus answered, "Thou hast said; nevertheless, I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven."

Guilt of Death

Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, "He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, ye have heard His blasphemy." The others answered, "He is guilty of death." These men then spit in His face and buffeted Him, the story says, others smiting Him with palms of their hands. It was at this time that someone asked Peter if he was not of Christ's companions and he denied it. Three times he asked this question, and thrice did he deny his Lord, and at the third denial the cock crowed as Jesus had said.

The next morning they took the Master to Pontius Pilate, the governor because only he could condemn to death. In the meantime, Judas had repented of his betrayal of his Lord. He had not spent the 30 pieces of silver, so he took them to the high priests and offered them back, saying, "I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood." But they answered, "What is that to us?" and refused to take it. Judas thereupon threw the money down and went out and hanged himself. The priests did not know what to do with this blood money, and finally used it to buy a "potter's field"—a place where the very poor could be buried. To this day the burial place of the outcast is called "potter's field."

Pilate questioned Jesus, and at last admitted that he could find no fault with Him. At the feast of the passover, it was the custom for the governor to release a

Pilate's Wife Has Dream
Pilate's wife sent word to him that he should have nothing to do with condemning Jesus, as He was righteous, as she had been warned in a dream. But even with this warning, Pilate had not the courage to release Him. All he did was to publicly wash his hands to signify that he would have nothing to do with the death of this innocent person. "I am innocent of the blood of this just person, see to it," he said. And the multitude roared, "His blood be on us, and on our children."

COLUMBUS VOTES DOWN ANOTHER GAS FIRM PLAN

COLUMBUS, March 15—For the second time in less than a week, Columbus city council today had turned down a proposal of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., seeking settlement of the 15-year-old gas rate controversy.

In a reversal of sentiment, the council unanimously turned down a proposed 61-cent rate and the return to consumers of $1,292,165 in impounded funds. Following the vote, spokesmen for the company indicated that the matter would be arbitrated no longer, but would be carried to court.

At Monday night's regular session, council turned down an average rate of 63 cents per thousand cubic feet and the return of a lesser refund.

At present consumers are paying an average rate of 56.22 cents, fixed last fall by the state utilities commission. Both the city and the company have appealed this rate.

Canton, Amanda Liked In State Court Tourney

By Russell Fuller

COLUMBUS, March 15—A fast, rugged Canton McKinley five and a determined Amanda quintet from Fairfield County today became favorites to cop the state high school Class A and Class B basketball tournaments.

The McKinley and Amanda outfits were the class of the 32 teams in the annual tourney yesterday. McKinley, surprisingly gifted, completely outclassed Martins Ferry, 48 to 23, and Amanda sneaked over a 23 to 22 win over a favored Sandusky St. Marys five.

Those two teams led the chase into the second round and their games today against Findlay and Glenford, respectively, featured the eight game docket in the Coliseum.

Today's pairings Class A: Massillon vs. Akron Buchtel, 3 p. m.; McKinley vs. Findlay, 4 p. m.; Cincinnati Woodward vs. Dayton Fairview, 8 p. m.; Akron South vs. New Philadelphia, 9 p. m.

Class B: Willshire vs. New Carlisle, 1 p. m.; Smithfield vs. Midvale, 2 p. m.; Glenford vs. Amanda, 6 p. m.; Canfield vs. Holgate, 7 p. m.

Yesterday's scores: Class A — Massillon 25; Bellefontaine 23; Akron Buchtel 26; Defiance 24; McKinley 48; Martins Ferry, 23; Findlay 36; Marietta 23; Cincinnati Woodward 21, Canton Lehman 19; Dayton Fairview 43, Toledo Waite 32; Akron South 35, Columbus Central 30; New Philadelphia 34, Bellevue 31.

Class B: Willshire 29, Marysville 21; New Carlisle 52, Waynesburg 35; Smithfield 23, German town 25; Midvale 43, Bluffton 32; Glenford 46, Rittman 32; Amanda 23, Sandusky St. Marys 22; Canfield 45, Hanover 37; Holgate 48, Kitts Hill 33.

The first day's firing drew 2,715 spectators at the afternoon session in the Coliseum and 4,000 at night. Approximately 3,300 persons attended the two Class B sessions in the Ohio State University gymnasium.

Dark Horse Strong
By far, the most thrilling contest was the bitter and at times vicious struggle between New Philadelphia and Bellevue, a dark horse contender.

Originally favored to win the crown, New Philadelphia, undefeated this year, ran into a stone wall and won out 34 to 31 in the last few seconds only after guards Benjamin and Brown slipped in a pair of hurried field goals.

The aggressive New Philly five took an early 11 to four lead. But at halftime, the Bellevue outfit was ahead 18 to 16. At the third quarter, New Philly led 25 to 22. During the final stanza, the score saw-sawed back and forth until New Philadelphia, in one final surge, pushed through to victory.

McKinley, in routing Martins Ferry, slumped behind early in the first quarter, but returned in the second period to blind the losers with a dazzling offensive attack. Guard Carnes was high point man for McKinley with 11 while A. Joseph led Martins Ferry with five.

Bellefontaine made only five of its 17 free throws and thus could attribute its loss to Massillon to that failing. Otherwise, the Logan County representatives were in the same class with their conquerors. Massillon led at the first quarter, 7 to 2, and 10 to eight at the half. The score was knotted at 18 at the end of the third period. Horace Gillom, dusky center tallied 11 points for Massillon while center Hildreth made 13 for Bellefontaine.

Guard Hits Hoop
The Defiance-Buchtel fray was nip-and-tuck with Monty Williams, Negro guard, tossing in two free throws in the final seconds to bring victory to Buchtel.

A forward named Warren "Bullet" Bell made 20 points and led Findlay to its one sided margin over Marietta.

The Woodward-Lehman contest was listless. Woodward clinched the match in the third quarter when forward Hake tossed in a bucket. Lehman counted the only two markers recorded in the last period.

Scoring 22 points, Ken Huddleston, flashy center, paced Dayton Fairview to its decisive victory over an inconsistent Toledo Waite

YANKEES TOO GOOD FOR ACES OF REDLEG STAFF

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15—After baffling the Cincinnati Reds again yesterday 5 to 3, the New York Yankees take on their city rivals, the New York Giants, in a spring exhibition game today. Two young Yankee pitchers, Marius Russo and Marv Breuer, stopped the Reds and their two star pitchers, Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer.

EARLY STOPS CARDS

BRADENTON, Fla., March 15—Tom Early's new side-arm delivery got the credit today for the 6 to 4 victory which the Boston Bees pounded out over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday. Early held the Red Birds to six scattered hits and one run.

C. A. C. TOURNEY RESUMES PLAY

Two Columbus Teams Vie At 8:30; Chillicothe Meets Newark

The Circleville Athletic Club's second annual cage tournament resumes Friday evening with four teams remaining in competition that has been brilliant and in some instances bitter. The survivors of tonight's contests will tangle Saturday evening for the tourney championship.

Festivities begin at 7:30 Friday evening with Stout's Pure Oil team playing a preliminary with a foe as yet unnamed.

At 8:30 the first semi-final joust is on the books between two fast Columbus teams, the Federal Glass and Gosnell Funeral Home quintets. At 9:30 Chillicothe City Club will tangle with the fast Newark Gasco quintet, favored by many to win the tournament title.

Federal Glass and Gosnell should provide a real fight, both teams being paced by star cagers who are capable of turning in brilliant basketball. The Chillicothe City Club, with Wilford Cropp as the most dangerous point maker, will be faced with the task of stopping Buddy Mercer, ex-Newark High star, and his cohorts.

ST. LOU CHEAPER THAN FLORIDA, SAYS MEDWICK

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 15—The sunshine at St. Petersburg, Fla., has no attraction for Joe Medwick, slugging St. Louis Cardinal holdout, and he will leave for the Cardinals' training camp there only when attractive inducements are offered, Medwick said today. Sitting tight at nearby Sappington, Mo., his home, the outfielder admitted he had received a letter from Branch Rickey, the Cardinals' general manager, but said Rickey was strangely silent about the salary issue. "I was in St. Petersburg until a week ago, but I came back because its cheaper to live here," Medwick commented.

UNCLE SAM PUTS TOUCH ON TONY FOR INCOME TAX

By Pat Robinson
NEW YORK, March 15—Uncle Sam caught up with Tony Galento today and the old boy with the whiskers scored an easy decision over the Jersey fat boy.

The bout was held in the office of the federal income-tax collector where for 12 long hours Tony, ably supported by Joe Jacobs, stormed and raged, begged and pleaded, wheedled and cajoled.

But all in vain for in the end he had to cough up with a large slice of the $90,000 you may be surprised to learn he earned last year.

"Now I simply gotta get that Philadelphia shot wit' Joe Louis," said Tony hoarsely. "Them Philadelphia lugs is offering him a humnert grand and that's more'n I make in me best year. And the guvment puts the bite on me for most of that. I'm gonna see Mike Jacobs today and have him make that Louis meet me again."

However, Louis, the financier, merely waived a disinterested languid hand when the $100,000 guarantee was mentioned. That sum represents a life's ambition to Galento but it's just a minor annoyance to Joe.

The tax battle, as recounted by Joe Jacobs, was amusing to everybody but Galento. "You see," explained Joe, "Tony battles around for 10 years for cakes and coffee and he never makes enough for Uncle Sam to bother about."

NEW RUMORS OF SALE OF YANKS BRINGS DENIALS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15—The newest rumors that the world-champion New York Yankees are about to be sold, this time to a syndicate headed by Former Governor F. P. Murphy of New Hampshire, simmered away today in denials from those who should know.

Vice-President George Ruppert repeated an earlier denial by President Ed Barrow that negotiations were under way or near completion with a group headed by Murphy.

Barrow revealed, however, that there have been "many nibbles" for the Yankees and that the club can be had for something like $6,000,000 in cash. The list of prospective purchasers has narrowed down to one man and his associates but the man isn't Murphy, according to Barrow.

Under the will of Col. Jacob Ruppert, the consent of all four trustees of his estate is necessary to consummate a sale. Besides Barrow and George Ruppert, the other trustees are Attorney Byron Clark and Harry Sillick, Ruppert's brother-in-law.

AIRPORT MEETING SET FOR ROSS COUNTIANS

CHILLICOTHE, March 15—Plans were perfected here for an aviation meeting here March 28 following a conference between J. H. Dubuque, engineer of the state department of aeronautics, and leaders sponsoring the establishment of a municipal airport. The session will be attended by civic leaders, city officials, businessmen, members of aviation committees from various fraternal and civic organizations that have endorsed the program.

"Chillicothe is in a very advantageous position so far as the development of commercial flying is concerned," Dubuque said. "Forward-looking businessmen who will go into the picture will find that airmail, passenger service and other aviation activities are developing around southern Ohio."

He added that Wellston and Jackson are slated for airmail service upon the approval of the route by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

the city and started the preliminary details of the program making surveys and plans for the water softening plant.

Gathering relative data and working out the costs of the various types of installation on the different proposed sites became the first steps of the group.

The city has set aside $125,000 for the construction of a soft water plant as an addition to the recently acquired municipal plant at a cost of $700,000.

OPEN LETTERS

TO MOTORISTS

DRIVERS: Traffic conditions in Circleville, as many of you have noted, have been improved beyond any doubt since the first of the year and many of you are to be thanked for cooperating with the safety campaign being conducted by the city safety department. Since the city put a patrolman on duty to check traffic the situation has become steadily better until now a marked improvement is noted. You know by now that Circleville's effort to improve traffic conditions is not a racket, but a definite, progressive program designed to help every one who drives an automobile and every one who walks on the streets of the county seat. Much credit must go to Miller Fissell, who is in charge of the traffic division of the city police force. His work has been excellent. He hasn't arrested every person who has violated a city statute, but he has warned many persons that arrests will follow for a second violation. The only citations into court have been to persons responsible for flagrant violations of the law, persons who have endangered the lives of others. An apparent improvement is noted in the various school districts, through instructions to children who cross the busy thoroughfares; garages are cooperating in helping to keep main highways open, and even the livestock sale organization is doing its best to keep trucks and cars from blocking streets in the vicinity of the sale barn. The whole thing in a nut shell is a question of cooperation, autoists doing their best to abide by the statutes set up by the city administration for traffic through the city. There are still some persons who believe they can run a red light, or can park in restricted zones, or can travel through an alley at a rate of speed dangerous to themselves and to any others that they might meet therein. Within a couple of weeks new statutes will become effective including one ordering parallel parking on Main Street. This ordinance was passed as an effort to correct conditions on that thoroughfare, and city officials hope that it will work. Other new legislation covers the speed of trucks through the city, and you can take it from all persons with authority that the law will be enforced to the letter.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CITIZENS

ALL: This is an appeal to every person in Circleville and Pickaway County to join in next week's observance of Holy Week, the seven days preceding Easter.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

NATIONAL straw polls continue to indicate Tom Dewey as the strongest probability for the Republican nomination next summer, with Senator Robert A. Taft in third place at best. In Washington, where politicians are concentrated, the local verdict favors Taft rather than Dewey.

Of course, Washington's preference should not be interpreted as implying that Taft would run more favorably than Dewey the country over. Chances are, in short, that the rank-and-file of straw voters know what they're talking about as to ELECTION day, but the professional politicians may be better guessers relative to the NOMINATION.

The idea's this:

The general public fancies that it picks presidential candidates. The bosses, however, pick the candidates between whom the general public makes its final selection.

The general public, in short, has precious little voice concerning the things at our big quadrennial conventions. The party managers run them. If they don't like an aspirant he stands mightily little show of being named as his outfit's standard bearer, no matter how popular he may be with mere ordinary voters.

NEW YORK'S FAMOUS CONVENTION

There was an example of this at

Each church in the community will be conducting its own rites, and all members of all congregations should be present to participate in the religious services appropriate to the season. Palm Sunday, which is being observed day after tomorrow, is always one of the outstanding days of the church year, and all church auditoriums should be crowded. The annual Union service of Circleville churches will be held this year on Good Friday in the United Brethren Church with the Rev. W. D. Ramsey delivering the sermon. I hope that all Circleville business houses and industries that can possibly do so will close their doors from 2 to 3 p. m., the hour during which the service will be conducted.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CANDIDATES

POLITICIANS: This evening at 6:30 o'clock marks the deadline for filing petitions for various county and state offices, and after that will begin the scramble for votes in Circleville, Pickaway County, the state and the whole nation for that matter. Pickaway County has many outstanding persons seeking office, and I feel certain that voters of the county are able enough to pick the persons they wish to represent them in office. Here is a plea to all candidates: please make your campaigns as clean as possible. It does you little good to run down another candidate hoping that you will be benefitted. You've often heard the adage: "A knock is a boost", well it holds true in elections, too.

TO ADELPHIANS

VILLAGERS: To persons who witnessed your valiant fight against fire that threatened your village last week the efforts all of you put forth were noble. Without the service of a crew of volunteer fire-fighters the village might have suffered much greater damage than it did. The need for well organized volunteer fire departments in the villages of the district is imperative, and those that do not have volunteer units right now should do something about organizing them. They may be needed, and at any time. The arrival of the new pumper truck for rural service should make some of you who live in the cooperating townships feel more secure, because this equipment will be available at all hours. However, miracles should not be expected of the pumper because oftentimes it may be necessary for the equipment to travel so far that property burning may be destroyed before it can reach its destination. Persons calling the Circleville department for the truck should be very specific about instructing firemen concerning locations.

TO LIBRARY WORKERS

FRIENDS: Your report of book lending for 1939 is an excellent one, and proves that the library is enjoying the greatest use in its history. Persons in Circleville and Pickaway County who have probably never before taken advantage of the splendid volumes on the shelves of your institution are now reading regularly, and enjoying themselves. The library is doing an excellent job, and I hope that it continues, because the institution is really a necessary one for all of us. Congratulations go to all who have had any part in making the library the success that is.

the celebrated New York Democratic convention which nominated John W. Davis for the White House.

Throughout the nation a big majority of Democrats unquestionably were for William G. McAdoo. Newton D. Baker made a pro-McAdoo speech that was a humdrum. The spectators in the galleries went wild over it. If the occupants of those galleries had been entitled to cast their ballots, William G. would have been nominated in a walk. Nobody present questioned it.

But the convention bosses vetoed the obvious party verdict.

In all likelihood the time wasn't ripe for a Democratic victory that year, anyway. Yet assuredly McAdoo wouldn't have been snowed under at the polls as badly as Davis was. The fact remains, it was a demonstration of the usual rule that, while the "peepul" frequently do the electing, the bosses generally attend to the nominating.

The entire electorate, to be controlled, has to be spell-bound. A convention can be managed.

The point is that management precedes spell-binding.

DEWEY VERSUS TAFT

Now, Tom Dewey relies on spell-binding. He's a genius at it—by far Taft's superior.

Tom, though, has neglected the fixing of the G. O. P. high commanders. Taft has concentrated on THEM. His notion is that the

DIET AND HEALTH

How U. S. Rates In Meat Eating

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Don't Americans eat too much meat? Do they eat more meat than people of other countries?

The actual statistics show that in the year 1937, the last year for which figures were available, the United States averaged 137 pounds of meat per person, as compared to 300 pounds for Argentina, 205 for Australia and 133 for Canada.

The United States consumes a quarter as much lamb per average capita as the inhabitants of the British Isles. If the consumption of meats and lard were increased in the United States to equal the four leading meat-eating countries, we would have to produce 10,000,000 more cattle, or 60 per cent more slaughter. If the entire increase fell on hogs, we would have to produce

Treatment of Refractory Ringworms

What is the treatment of refractory ringworm?

This correspondent writes that she has an eruption on the palm of the hand. It has been diagnosed as ringworm and the scales have been found to have mycelium threads on microscopic examination. She has had a number of forms of treatment and says that she is using very strong medicines.

This is a common problem of the dermatologist. The trouble is probably in using too strong medication. The ringworm is a great sensitizer and produces sensitization of the skin so that it is difficult to treat with strong fungicides.

When fissures and pus infection are present, one of the best applications is ammoniated mercury ointment. After the fissures have healed, a crude coal tar ointment,

Proving Hazards of Farming

Is farming the safest occupation?

No. Reports show that farming is an exceedingly dangerous occupation, the hazards of which are not universally appreciated. Fractures, lacerations, contusions, incised wounds, dislocations, burns, frost-bites, gunshot wounds—all these are natural occupational hazards of farming. These injuries are inflicted by tools, animals, machines, vehicles, falling trees, heat and cold.

In a medium-sized rural hospital, agricultural accidents were responsible for nearly one-fourth of all the injuries treated.

THE KILLER SPEAKS

RICHARD HOUGHTON
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:
I, Bill Strickland, am suspected in the murder of my friend, Alfred Markham, rich young jeweler, at a party in the Rio Vista clubhouse. Jerry Montclair, another friend, although he is engaged to Muriel Benson, the girl I had once hoped to marry, is another suspect, because it was he who first stumbled over the body in the moonlit garden at the tip of the river peninsula on which the clubhouse stands. Captain of Detectives Clyde McDonald decides to test my alibi that I was upstairs when Markham supposedly was killed. He sends me up, to time my actions. But I am desperate. I remember that I dropped my knife in the garden. Afraid that it will be damning evidence against me, I decide to get down into the garden somehow, and retrieve the knife before it is found by the police or by Coroner Silver.

CHAPTER SEVEN
THE VERY difficulties in the way of my descending to the garden comprised the strength of my alibi, for if I could get down into the garden now the police would say I could also have gotten down to kill Markham, I told myself. Perhaps by finding a way down now I would destroy my alibi. But I must take a chance.

There was only one exit that might be unguarded—the kitchen door on the north side of the lower story. The cook and waitress had been sitting there earlier in the night. They might be gone now. There was no stairway down to the kitchen, except the one up which I had come, but there was a light well at the end of the hall, and I judged by its location that the kitchen opened into it.

I ran on tiptoe to the end of the hall and opened the window into the light well. Yes, there was a light shining out of the window directly below me. It seemed to be the right place for the kitchen—and I heard no voices.

Taking this only chance which was open to me, I slipped through the upper window and hung by my hands as far down as I could reach, feeling with my toes until I located the top of the window below. Then gripping a water pipe I lowered myself hand under hand to the kitchen window sill and looked in. There was not a soul in sight. The dirty dishes were piled on the tables as though they had been left until tomorrow.

Luckily, on account of the warm night and the heat of cooking, the window from the light well into the kitchen had been left open. I crawled through it, dropped to the floor and sped swiftly to the outer door. A moment later I was out under the stars beside the river, in the deep shadow of the northwest corner of the building.

Remembering what St. Clair had said about the path around the north wing at low tide, I took off my shoes, hid them in the ash can at the kitchen door, pulled my trousers legs up over my knees and waded into the cold water. Feeling my way along the wall, I found the footing solid underneath and gained the dry land at the northwest corner of the clubhouse without getting into any water more than a foot deep.

I let my trousers legs down again and peered around the corner into the moonlight of the garden. One of the police officers was walking slowly back and forth by the lily pond, studying the ground.

He was so intent on his search that I skirted around behind him quietly in my bare feet and gained the rose arbor without attracting his attention.

My heart had quickened its beat. My time was going rapidly. Jerry came out on schedule and walked toward the lily pond to re-enact the finding of the body. The police officer nearly upset the program by detaining him.

It was now or never. While they argued I felt hastily about it. I knew the arbor where I knew the knife had fallen. It was not there.

I remembered exactly where it had lain, beside a large white stone. Had someone else found it?

Jerry was going back into the clubhouse. I had not even a second to spare. In fact, the odds were now against my being able to get back upstairs in time to come down the stairway on schedule.

The policeman was watching Jerry. I turned and ran straight for the willows, bending low. I intended to dodge along the sandy shore of the river to the north wing of the clubhouse again. I prayed that no one had returned to the kitchen.

It was dark under the trees. Something blacker than a shadow loomed before me. Arms like steel clamped around me, pinioning my hands to my sides.

This was no policeman. It was a giant of a man, smelling of bad liquor. I tried to wrench loose, but he was too strong and I dared not scuffle to make a noise.

Suddenly one of his arms drew back. There was a swishing sound and then a blinding light.

I awoke to find my head throbbing as though it had been split. I was looking up at the starlit sky, lying on my back on hard boards. My whole bed awayed. It was a small boat. Water splashed and gurgled gently against the sides.

When I tried to move I found that my wrists were tied together under me. There was a choking gasp in my mouth. I closed my eyes and lapsed into unconsciousness again.

How many minutes later it was before I opened my eyes a second time I had no way of knowing. I was still in the boat. There sounded the slow swish and splash of a muffled oar. I could not see the boatman, who apparently was seated behind my head, paddling the boat like a canoe. At my feet I could just raise my head enough to see them—were several sacks bulging oddly.

The sides of the boat were so high that I could see nothing of the shore, but presently from ahead I noticed a dark shape looming up as we approached it. Gradually it took the form of a roof. We were drifting up to some old building. It looked like a deserted warehouse standing high on piles beside the river. Not a light shone from it anywhere.

I scarcely had time to notice that there were branches of trees hanging over the building, when we glided under the wharf or pier. Momentarily I saw the dim outline of piles rising around us, then all melted into the pitch darkness.

The boatman must have known the course well, or perhaps he was guided by a light I could not see. The steady splash of the muffled oar continued. Twice the boat bumped into something, veered off and continued. The jar and accompanying shiver of the boat sent the pain shooting through my head again.

At last a dim glow shone up ahead and a moment later a lantern came into sight, hanging from a beam overhead. I had to shut my eyes until they became accustomed to the light. The boat stopped. Feet scraped near my head and the whole craft rocked dizzily as the boatman stepped out on an invisible landing.

He looked to be about 20 feet tall as he stood over me. The lantern was above his head, and in the shadow of his hat I could not make out his face or much about him. Even his size was distorted. Looking up at him this way from a position several inches below his feet, he was all out of proportion.

Unexpectedly he reached up and took down the lantern, turning his back to me as he blew it out. I felt myself lifted from the boat by arms that seemed to have Herculean strength. I am no featherweight.

My captor set me on my feet and roughly pushing from behind, started me walking through the darkness. I had no way of telling at what moment I might step off into a hole or trap of some sort, but the floor continued level and smooth underfoot.

Speeding-up Rhubarb

Rhubarb can be enjoyed by the home-gardener about three weeks earlier than Nature normally would provide it, by subjecting it to the speeding-up process. This calls for covering selected crowns of the plants in the open ground with barrels, kegs or boxes.

As soon as the rhubarb sprouts appear, cover them with a barrel from which top and bottom have been removed, as shown in the above GARDEN-GRAPH. Place an eight-inch layer of manure the bottom of each barrel as illustrated. This provides warmth for the plants and encourages the growth of extra large stalks. If the weather is unusually cold or windy, the top of the barrel can be partly covered to protect the plants.

LIBRARY REPORT DISCLOSES 134,908 VOLUMES USED DURING 1939

NEED FOR MORE FINANCES CITED BY EXECUTIVE

Budget Must Be Boosted If Present Service Is To Be Continued

FIGURES ARE STRESSED

Many Contributions Made During Last Year By Patrons

Declaring that the Circleville Public Library's book circulation in 1939 totalled 134,908 volumes which included large increases in Circleville and Pickaway County service, Daniel R. Pfoutz, librarian, Friday, submitted his report for the year's work. The largest monthly circulation was in March when 17,850 books were distributed. The total county service circulation during the year was 87,029; the total for the main library, 47,879.

In starting his report, Mr. Pfoutz writes: "If the growth of an institution such as a library is indicated by the increase of work necessary to carry it on and by the number of books circulated and the borrowers registered, the trustees and citizens may be congratulated on the growth of the Public Library. "The trustees have given much time and thought to the growing crowded conditions of the library and have made it possible for the library to add a row of new steel stacks. These stacks should care for the immediate needs. Along with the stacks, new stack-ights were installed which immediately proved to be an aid to the library patrons and staff who have found both pleasure and comfort in them."

Budget Needs Cited

Mr. Pfoutz went on in his report saying that the continuation of the present service cannot be assured unless an increase is provided in the library's budget. "Unless new equipment and new books can be purchased," he wrote, "it will be necessary to sacrifice many of the gains that have been made within the last few years. Books in the library are in poor condition and many of the books for children should be replaced with new editions, well illustrated, with good print. Or they should be rebound."

The librarian declared that the appropriation for new books should be doubled at least.

The assistance of the WPA in the work of the library is noted in the report. A bookmobile assistant is provided, a full-time typist, a full-time page who shelves books and does other similar work, and a full-time book-mender are provided for the library.

Two hundred and sixty-four books were added to the library's shelves during the last year through donations from the following: Lillian Jones, G. D. McDowell, the Rev. L. C. Sherburne, Charles Hill, Mrs. Harold Silbaugh, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Alice Morrow, Elizabeth Dunlap, Yale University, Pickaway Plains Chapter D. A. R., Mrs. Clark Will, Mrs. Florence R. Jones, Oxford University Press, Geneva Speakman, Alice O'Day, Pickaway County W. C. T. U., Mrs. Brunelle P. Downing, Miss Moodie James Swearingen, Ohio State Library, Joe M. Lynch, Walter Petty, W. W. Siebert, Mrs. David Sanders, Margaret Hunsicker, Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, E. A. Ballou, J. W. Johnson, Mary Daley, S. Croman and Mrs. R. H. Teegardin.

Figures Provided Collections for 1939 included: fines, $218.73; non-resident fees, $8.50; fines on truck, $25.31, a total of $252.54.

The circulation total for the year, main library and county combined, follows: general works, 139; philosophy, 739; religion, 632; sociology, 3,112; language, 372; science, 1,793; useful arts, 3,980; fine arts, 3,341; literature, 2,801; history, 1,697; travel, 3,175; biography, 3,917; periodicals, 436; pamphlets, 262; fiction, 106,954; rental, 2,532; pictures, 14;

Income Tax Payments Suffer Big Drop

TREASURY SAYS '39 COLLECTION MILLIONS LOWER

National Income For Year Under 1938; Change In Profits Levy Cited

YIELD ESTIMATE MADE

Returns Will Determine Whether New Fund Must Be Raised

WASHINGTON, March 15 — With the stroke of midnight tonight marking the deadline for filing of 1939 income tax returns, treasury officials today forecast a drop of approximately $230,000,000 in revenues from this source during the current fiscal year.

Two major factors are responsible for this reduction in anticipated revenues — lower national income during the last year and emasculation of the undistributed profits tax on corporation earnings.

As bulging mail sacks piled into the nation's 63 internal revenue collection offices, unofficial estimates placed the March income tax yield in the neighborhood of $650,000,000. An anticipated $350,000,000 additional in June is expected to bring income payments from individuals and corporations up to $1,950,000,000 for the 1940 fiscal year.

This represents a $229,000,000 decrease from last year. Corporation income taxes will be approximately $98,000,000 less than 12 months ago, while taxes on individuals are expected to register a drop of $127,000,000. Excess profits taxes will sag about $9,000,000 below the 1939 volume.

Dividend Payments Cut
Virtual repeal of the undistributed profits tax caused a considerable reduction in the amount of dividends paid out by corporations during 1939. These dividends would have been reflected in the tax returns of individuals.

The generally lower income levels that prevailed during 1939 are responsible for the sharp decrease in both corporation and individual taxes.

As in former years, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, California, Michigan, Ohio and Massachusetts will account for well over half of the income tax revenues received by the treasury. New

COURT SUITS ASK $38,500 DAMAGE

Accident On Jackson Pike In Which Six Were Hurt Basis For Actions

A traffic accident on Route 104 last October 23 in which six persons riding in one automobile were injured was the basis Friday for four damage suits filed in Franklin County Common Pleas court against Virgil Swane, 1451 Lockbourne Road, Columbus. The suits aggregated $38,500.

Swane was driving an automobile which swerved in the highway and struck a guard rail, passengers in his machine being thrown into the roadway. All were painfully hurt, at least two of them believed at the time to have been fatally injured. All, however, recovered.

The suits include: $25,000 asked for Mary Ann Crawford, 4; $5,000 for Barbara Crawford, 3; $3,500 for Frances Bellomy, 19, and $5,000 for Rose Borror, 20. The Crawford children were reported at the time of the accident to have been most seriously injured.

Swane and the party were on their way to Williamsport to visit with newly-married friends when the accident happened, state highway patrolmen who investigated said.

NORRIS WOULD FORGIVE FINNISH DEBT TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 15 — Nebraska's veteran independent senator, George W. Norris, suggested today that this nation "forgive" the rest of Finland's World War debt.

"I think we ought to forgive Finland the rest of its war debt to this country," Norris declared. "They need the money badly enough now for relief and rehabilitation."

He pointed out Finland has been the only nation to make regular payments on its debt. Other congressional leaders indicated sympathy for Norris' proposal.

COLLECTION DAY

Tomorrow will be regular collection day for The Daily Herald carriers. Please have your change ready.

Miss Esther Roehm To Be Lecturer For Big Event To Be Conducted Three Days In Auditorium Of Memorial Hall

Final arrangements for presenting another Cooking School, sponsored by The Circleville Herald and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., were completed Friday. The event, awaited each year by hundreds of Circleville and community housewives and others, will be conducted March 27, 28 and 29 in the auditorium of Memorial Hall. All sessions begin at 2 o'clock and all are free.

Leading Circleville merchants will cooperate in the Cooking School.

Miss Esther Roehm will be the food lecturer for the Cooking School. She will be assisted by Miss Dorothy Duncan, home service representative for the Gas Company, and K. A. Williams, who will be in charge of properties and program arrangements.

Program Planned

A program composed of three different sessions—one to be presented each day — has been arranged. Each day's program is filled with dramatic and entertaining demonstrations. During the three days practically every phase of modern cooking will be covered. The modern trends in menu planning, new time-saving methods, unusual food servings will be particularly emphasized.

The opening program, "Life Begins at Breakfast" will take up that much neglected, yet most important, meal which starts the day in every home. This program holds a number of dramatic surprises as well as an entirely new approach to the breakfast problem.

The second day's session—"The Meal of the Day"—is a continuation of the first day's program, dealing primarily with the ideas for serving the main meal of the day. A portion of the discussion, also, will be devoted to the preparation of children's dishes. Again, as in the first day, a dramatic skit will enliven the program. As a special feature the

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 15 — Fire raged with unchecked fury through the uptown Guthery apartments in Charlotte today, claiming the lives of at least six persons and bringing serious injury to a dozen others, some of whom are not expected to live.

The disastrous blaze was first discovered shortly after 1 a. m. before fire-fighting apparatus could reach the scene the entire 3-story, 24-family structure had become an inferno of flame. A score or more families hurried into the wintry cold and damp streets clad only in their sleeping clothes.

Before fire and ambulance aid could go into action, many of the residents were trapped by the leaping flames. Some leaped from second and third story windows to the street.

Firemen on ladders rescued several of the occupants as they clung to window ledges to escape the flames and smoke.

The dead were tentatively identified as Miss Lucy Walton, Miss Rowena E. Dickerson, Mrs. Hazelle E. Martin, Edward Martin, Mrs. H. R. Eley and Tom Charity. Damage to the building was estimated at $100,000.

STOCKHOLM — The newspaper Social Democrat, organ of the Swedish government, today sharply attacked Germany's joyful attitude toward Finland's defeat by Soviet Russia. "How can Germany regard the Finnish settlement as a great diplomatic victory (for the Reich) while the whole world is criticizing it?" the paper asked.

ROME — Possibility arose today that American Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles may confer privately with Pope Pius XII before returning to the United States from Rome.

PARIS — Stormy weather kept the Western Front fairly quiet today, save for the customary patrol activities, and held aviation on the ground.

STOCKHOLM — The Swedish purchasing delegation now in the United States has concluded arrangements to buy 144 American pursuit planes at a cost of $10,000,000, it was reported unofficially today. The delegation also was said to have contacted the American navy department for the purpose of purchasing a number of small warships.

LONDON TO BAN IMPORT OF U. S. CANNED FRUITS

Circleville canners said Friday that the British ban on import of canned fruit would hinder local industry. They said that no fruits are canned in this district.

LONDON, March 15 — Anglo-American trade suffered another war-time blow today as the British government prohibited imports of canned and bottled fruits except under special license.

The new ban, which will hit American fruit producers and canners, becomes effective Tuesday, whereafter the British food ministry alone will be authorized to import canned and bottled fruit.

Official reason is that Britain seeks to conserve shipping space for imports considered more essential to conduct of the war. "There are very large stocks in the country of these imports, particularly from the United States," the announcement said. "They substantially increased in the first eight months of 1939 and continued to climb in wartime. Recently there were signs of further large orders."

DEADLINE NEARS FOR CANDIDATES TO FILE PAPERS

Riffe, Brown And Storts Definitely In Contest For Sheriff's Job

NO SURPRISE NOTED

6:30 P. M. Is Final Hour To Submit Names For Primary Races

With the 6:30 p. m. Friday deadline looming nearer, ten more persons have filed their petitions with Claude Kraft, clerk of the Board of Elections, and no surprise candidates for nomination were in the group.

Three more petitions, crowding the Democratic ticket for the office of sheriff, were submitted. Harry Riffe, Lowell B. Brown and Worley Storts turned their petitions over to Kraft Friday morning.

Petitions of two more Democrats for the office of clerk of courts came across the clerk's desk. These two petitions, as the three for sheriff, are filed by Democrats in opposition to the Democratic incumbents. The two who have filed were Byron Eby and George C. Barnes.

Colville Foes File

A Democrat and Republican have both turned in the accumulated signatures for the office of county treasurer. Frank Anderson and Clyde Brinker are both attempting to replace Robert Colville in that office.

Mrs. Florence Campbell, Democrat, and Judge Lemuel Weldon, Republican, incumbent recorder and probate judge respectively, both filed.

Edward Kreisel, Republican, was the sole additional filer Friday for nomination on the Republican slate as county commissioner.

TEST OF SANITY TO DELAY TRIAL OF OHIO YOUTH

BELLEFONTAINE, March 15 — The first degree murder trial of Donald Slater, 18, for the slaying of Fred Jenkins, 51, on the night of February 1, scheduled to open next Monday, was postponed today by Common Pleas Judge Lawrence Zupp.

Defense Attorney Roy Roof, of Kenton, has indicated that he may request a mentality examination for the defendant, although one has not yet been asked, and it was for this reason that the trial was postponed.

Judge Zupp said that he might set a new trial date either tomorrow or Monday, but that Slater would not go on trial next week, nor would the slain man's widow, Mrs. Minnie Jenkins, or her son, Merlin, 18.

Jenkins, a telegraph operator, was beaten to death with a hammer in his Huntsville home. His body was taken in an automobile to a point near Dayton where it was dumped into a roadside ditch. Prosecutor J. Ewing Smith said that young Slater confessed the crime, saying that he killed Jenkins because of threats by the latter to harm his family.

TRUCKER FINED $10 FOR VIOLATION OF STOP SIGN

John F. Gray, Chillicothe trucker, paid a fine of $10 and costs in Squire B. T. Hedges' court Thursday afternoon following his arrest by State Highway Patrolman D. W. Miller at the intersection of routes 159 and 56. Gray pleaded guilty to the charge that he failed to obey the stop sign on route 159 at the intersection in violation of a state highway law. The intersection is one where several accidental deaths have happened.

FINNISH peace gives Russia free hand to help Germany and thus Adolf Hitler's influence in Europe is enhanced. Observers say he will have the decisive voice in three-quarters of the continent.

Sawyer, Heer in Strife Over Convention Slate

COLUMBUS, March 15 — Factional strife broke out again today in the ranks of Ohio Democrats over the selection of national convention delegates as the last of the primary candidates filed nominating petitions with the secretary of state. The deadline for filing was 6:30 p. m.

National Committeeman Charles Sawyer and Walter F. Heer, Franklin County Democratic chairman, could not agree on the selection of convention delegates in the 12th district, and Sawyer was reported as ready to name those of his own choosing.

Heer and the Democratic state organization have been at odds since the Franklin County chairman supported Martin L. Davey over Sawyer in the last gubernatorial campaign.

Meanwhile, Davey announced from his home in Kent that he would file nominating petitions containing 33,000 signatures, with all counties represented. He said it required only four days to obtain that many signatures, adding, "No doubt this sets a new record for the number of signers secured in so short a time."

Many Persons File

Those who had filed were Ex-Gov. George White, Marietta; Former Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, Columbus; Former Secretary of State William J. Kennedy, Cleveland; James Marker, Versailles, former highway director; Former Congressman Harold G. Mosier, Cleveland, and James F. Flynn, Sandusky attorney. The definite announcement of

HOOVER'S FOES CHALLENGED TO COME INTO OPEN

WASHINGTON, March 15 — Senator Henry Ashurst (D) Arizona today challenged critics making attacks by "innuendoes and insinuation" of Chief G-Man J. Edgar Hoover to "come out into the open."

Ashurst, chairman of the senate judiciary committee and one of the most influential members of the congress, said that Hoover's foes, now operating behind cover of a proposed senate investigation into wiretapping, should either demand a specific investigation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation specifically, or cease their whispering campaign.

The colorful senate veteran said that if those making covert attacks on Hoover would propose an investigation on those terms, he probably would vote for it, "because I believe the investigation would show no corruption, no violations of constitutional liberties."

"I don't know Mr. Hoover, I have never met him personally. I am judging him solely by his work. I believe he also would welcome a fair investigation because it would stop the attacks by insinuation."

BRITISH PAPER DECLARES FOUR STEPS PROBABLE

BIG U. S. ROLE CERTAIN?

American Emissary Learns English Compromise Out Of Question

LONDON, March 15 — Chancellor Hitler and Dictator Josef Stalin are planning a "blitzpeace offensive," the London Daily Express reported from Copenhagen today.

But the diplomatic correspondent of the London Daily Sketch wrote that American Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles, who is scheduled to confer again with Premier Mussolini in Rome before returning to the United States, will report to President Roosevelt that the chances are 1,000 to one against a negotiated peace in Europe under the present circumstances.

According to a Copenhagen report to the Daily Telegraph, political circles in Berlin said German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop soon will go to Moscow for joint Russo-German policy talks and to stir up a peace drive.

The Express said that as part of the asserted "blitzpeace offensive" Russian workers have been ordered to open a campaign of appeals to workers in the United States in the hope of bringing pressure on the Allies.

Four Steps Cited

Basing its information on a Berlin dispatch to the Copenhagen newspaper Politiken, the Express listed four steps in the alleged Russo-German "lightning peace" drive.

These steps were given as follows:

- 1—A Russo-Italian trade agreement along the lines of the Russo-German pact. (The Russian embassy in Rome yesterday denied negotiations for such a pact were under way.)
- 2—A Russo-Rumanian non-aggression pact.
- 3—A Russo-Turkish peace pact.
- 4—Efforts to swing Turkey away from her alliance with the Anglo-French Allies.

Hitler, said the dispatch, is aiming to insure Scandinavian and Balkan supplies to Germany to give him time to build up trade with Russia if he decides to post-

EXPOSURE CITED AS OHIO WOMAN DIES IN HER CAR

SPRINGFIELD, March 15 — Greene County Coroner H. C. Schick said today he would render a verdict of accidental death in the automobile crash near Fairfield which claimed the life of Mrs. Bessie Fessler, 46-year-old housewife.

Mrs. Fessler's body was found in the wrecked car last night, 24 hours after her companion, Mrs. Irene F. Schwab, 44, a sister, was found wandering along the road in a dazed condition.

Coroner Schick said investigation disclosed that the two women visited friends in Dayton Wednesday and had started for home. He said Mrs. Fessler had suffered a fractured skull but apparently died of exposure.

Mrs. Schwab still was unable to shed any light on the accident this morning. She suffered a broken collar bone and other injuries.

LOAN DEADLINE MARCH 31

The deadline on AAA loans on the 1939 corn crops has been set for March 31, Paul Matthes of the Pickaway County AAA office announced Friday. Loans have been granted on 15,094 bushels of corn on the 1939 crops and 11,921 bushels of the 1938 crops. The loans for both years have totaled 17 and 14 respectively.

EVACUATION OF FINNS GOES ON IN CEDED AREA

About Sixth Of Population Must Find New Homes As Result Of Pact

HELSINKI SEES HOPES

Soldiers Leave Territory Turned Over To Soviet In Peace Agreement

HELSINKI, March 15—An official announcement that Finland, Sweden and Norway formally have agreed to resume their security negotiations stirred new hope in the nation pressed forward with its reconstruction work.

Evacuation of thousands of Finnish civilians from areas surrendered to Russia went forward as authorities sought new homes and means of sustenance for the 400,000 left homeless and destitute by the war with Russia.

By this morning the Hango Peninsula, leased by Russia for a naval base, has been totally evacuated by Finnish civilians. The population was being transported to the interior of the country in mile-long columns of trucks.

At the same time, in accordance with the peace treaty, Russian troops began their withdrawal from occupied areas of far northern Finland just south of Petsamo. Secret negotiations were reported under way with Finland's Scandinavian states aimed at a reconstruction loan. Finnish authorities said they expected this loan would materialize shortly.

Obstacles Faced

But it was clear that the defensive alliance among Finland, Sweden and Norway faced serious obstacles. Opposition was believed to be rising in both Sweden and Norway on grounds the proposed pact might offend Russia.

Nevertheless, Sweden and Norway have notified Finland of their willingness to "explore the possibilities" of a defensive pact.

(One Moscow dispatch said it was believed Russia would not object to a purely defensive pact among Finland, Norway and Sweden, provided nothing in it could be construed as directed against Soviet Russia.)

As the evacuation of the Carelian Isthmus began, a column of Finnish soldiers and civilians 25 miles long started the weary trek out of the territory ceded to Russia. These refugees are moving at the rate of eight miles a day toward the Finnish area northwest of Lake Ladoga.

Minister of Agriculture Koivisto, in charge of the evacuation, declared that some 470,000 Finns must seek new homes immediately, and added that this number represented nearly one-sixth of the population.

Not only people but domesticated animals are joining in the evacuation. No less than 50,000 cattle are moving from the territories handed over to the Soviets. The state is devoting 4,000,000 marks a day to finance the exodus, which is being carried out with the aid of military officials.

Since many families were broken up during the war, a special organization has been created to reunite children and their parents.

Black-Out Continues

Helsinki itself remained blacked-out at night despite the fact that hostilities have ceased.

Authorities asked the 200,000 residents of the city who were evacuated during the war to remain where they are until the evacuation of civilians from ceded districts has been completed. This system will mean less of a strain

GALLIPOLIS MAN IN CONTEST FOR APPEALS BENCH

Judge W. R. White of Gallipolis, Friday, made formal declaration of his candidacy for the District Court of Appeals by filing nominating petitions in Portsmouth.

His aspiration for election to the higher judicial position is supported by 19 years of experience as judge of the Common Pleas Court and his many assignments to a large number of counties in the state.

Judge White is a former president of the Common Pleas Judges' Association. He has continuously made the law his avocation following graduation from the Cincinnati Law School in 1902. Four terms as Gallipolis City Solicitor preceded two elections to the post of Gallia County Prosecuting Attorney, when he was chosen for Common Pleas Bench.

Long active in Gallipolis, he has recently been honored by selection as chairman of the Gallipolis Sesquicentennial Commission, a position requiring legal knowledge, personal poise and a wide knowledge of men and affairs.

EARL LEIST BACK HOME; MOTHER IS IN HOSPITAL

Earl Leist, Washington Township, injured Wednesday in the automobile accident at Warsaw, Ind., that proved fatal to Mrs. Lawrence Warner, was returned home Thursday evening. He is suffering from a cut over the right eye and loss of blood.

His mother, Mrs. Florence Leist, remains in the Warsaw hospital. She has a severe forehead cut and is suffering from numerous bruises. Mrs. Leist was unconscious for 12 hours after the crash of the Leist car with a truck on a slippery highway. Mrs. Leist will remain in the Warsaw hospital for the next 10 days, her son said.

on Finland's over-taxed communications, it was explained.

At present, all means of transportation are under control of the government.

Officials said they hoped that Finnish schools would be able to reopen after Easter.

A Finnish army sergeant who has just returned from Viborg told this correspondent that fighting on the Carelian Front continued until exactly two minutes before the armistice became effective, and that eight Finns in his company were wounded in the final hours of combat.

Non-commissioned officers knew of the peace agreement 90 minutes before the armistice went into effect, he said, but the soldiers were not informed until 20 minutes before the guns ceased firing.

Ashville Juror Excused Because Name Is Smith

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

All belong to the same gang, the attorney thought. Seymour Smith while over at Steubenville serving as a juror in Mell Underwood's federal court last week, was excused from a case just because his name happened to be Smith. The case of a litigant by the same name was coming up for hearing and the jurors were being questioned as to their fitness to serve. When the opposing lawyer in the Smith case before the court, came to our juror Mr. Smith and found for a fact that that was his name, he was excused from serving because he said "they all belong to the same gang and stick together." We get this story from Mr. Smith himself.

Ashville—Bryan Riffe and family of Amanda territory are now residents of Ashville occupying the recently purchased Henry Gloyd dwelling at Long and Station Streets.

Ashville—Both the Ashville-Harrison school board and the village council will be in session Monday evening. . . . The Lutheran Brotherhoods of both the Lockbourne and Ashville congregations held their joint meeting here in mid-week. Also the Ladies' Aid society on

Mrs. Lydia Brinker sick for several days at her home on Long Street is slowly improving but yet confined to her bed. Mrs. Lena Shannon, nurse, while attending a patient, Mrs. Hunt, Columbus, fell on cellar steps at the home and broke her left arm. Also a back injury. . . . THEATRES

ACCORDING to the man who is credited with being the one living person who knew Thomas Edison best, Mickey Rooney today is an exact reproduction of the great inventor as a boy.

Then is Francis Jehl, the only living man who saw Edison produce electric light, Mickey met him at Greenfield Village where Jehl is in charge of the restored Edison laboratory in the famous village constructed by Henry Ford. Jehl, who is eighty, knew Edison as a boy and he told Mickey, "Don't let them change your type when you play young Tom. You are he, even to appearance. Tom was a cocky young fellow with his share of seriousness, just as you are on the screen."

The old man told Mickey that he has seen every one of Mickey's pictures because the young actor reminded him so much of Edison as a boy. "Andy Hardy is young Tom," he stated.

Mickey visited the famous Edison display in order to prepare himself for the title role in "Young Tom Edison," which opens Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre. In the cast are Fay Bainter, George Bancroft, Virginia Weidler and Eugene Palette. Norman Taurog directed.

The commencement exercises close the winter quarter and classes will not reconvene until March 26.

Mercury Rests At 20 In Circleville Community;
Snow Falling

ROADS GENERALLY GOOD

Normal Temperature For
Time Of Year Figured
At 40 Degrees

Circleville was experiencing another attack by King Winter Friday with snow falling and the temperature hovering in the vicinity of 20.

By International News Service.
Temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees below normal prevailed throughout Ohio today, and forecasters could see only slight prospects for relief from the cold wave over the week end.

The mercury hovered around the 20-degree mark this morning, although the Port Columbus weather bureau reported that normal average temperature for this time of the year is about 40 degrees.

Hayesville reported a low of 19 degrees, Cleveland had a reading of 20, Akron, East Liverpool and Toledo 21, Columbus and Dayton
22, Cambridge 23 and Cincinnati
26.

Cloudy skies with possible light snow flurries were predicted for today, with the thermometer to remain below freezing. Tomorrow was to be fair with slightly rising temperatures.

With the exception of Ashtabula County, where the highways were covered with packed snow and ice, all roads in the state were in good condition, the highway patrol said.

Snow flurries were general throughout the night, but the fall did not exceed one-half inch.

TRAWLER SENDS
GERMAN U-BOAT
DOWN IN FIGHT

LONDON, March 15—A British trawler sank a German U-boat after a 17-hour running gun duel off the northeast coast of Scotland, authorities disclosed today.

It was stated that the trawler spotted and attacked the submarine with depth-charges. The U-boat, damaged, rose to the surface immediately and opened fire on the trawler, which replied.

The submarine then moved away at a speed of 16 knots. The trawler never had attained more than 15 knots.

Despite the fact that the trawler's engine rooms were partly flooded, the engineer, Leonard Westerton, who holds a Distinguished Service Medal, risked shaking the bottom out of his ship and forced his engines until the vessel hit a speed of 18 knots, closing the gap between itself and its victim.

After 17 hours of fighting, the U-boat went to the bottom.
When the trawler limped into port it was found that its engines had shifted from their foundations owing to the terrific vibrations.

FINLAND MIGHT
TRY OLYMPICS
DESPITE FIGHT

HELSINKI, March 15—The chances that little war-ravaged Finland might through some Herculean effort yet stage the 1940
Olympics appeared exceedingly slim today.

It was considered hardly possible that the tiny republic could spare either the money or energy from its huge reconstruction task to stage the games.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In a broadcast last night from Helsinki, Edwin Hartich, CBS Helsinki correspondent, said the possibility for staging the Olympics there was "very slight." He quoted Johann Rangel, head of the Finnish Olympic Committee, as stating the war rehabilitation tasks permitted no diversion of money for the games.)

It was believed the various Olympic buildings thus far constructed had all safely escaped the various war bombings. Finland has until April 1 to make its decision pro or con on the games and the little nation which stood off the big Russian army for so long and pays its debts while bigger and richer nations defaulted might possibly yet find a way to go through with the Olympics.

Calvary—Triumph Through Sacrifice

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 17 is Matthew 26:57-27:56, the Golden Text being Isaiah 53:3.
"He was despised, and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief.")

AFTER JUDAS' betrayal of Jesus in Gethsemane, the Lord was bound and taken first to Annas, the high priest, Caiaphas' father-in-law. There is no account in the gospels of what transpired there. Then He was taken to Caiaphas. This man was head of the Sanhedrin, the highest court in Israel, composed of 70 Jewish men, all over 40 years of age, all scholars in their attainments and of unblemished reputation.

These men were resolved that Christ should die, but they made a semblance of trying Him, producing false witnesses, one of whom said Jesus had said, "I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days," a thing
Jesus had not said.

The high priest asked Jesus if this were true and He held His peace, so Caiaphas asked Him,
"I adjure thee, by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God."
Jesus answered, "Thou hast said;
nevertheless, I say unto you, hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven."

Guilt of Death
Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, "He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, ye have heard His blasphemy."
The others answered, "He is guilty of death." These men then spit in His face and buffeted Him, the story says, others smiting Him with palms of their hands. It was at this time that someone asked Peter if he was not of Christ's companions and he denied it. Three times he was asked this question, and thrice did he deny his Lord,
and at the third denial the cock
crowed as Jesus had said.

The next morning they took the Master to Pontius Pilate, the governor because only he could condemn to death. In the meantime, Judas had repented of his betrayal of his Lord. He had not spent the 30 pieces of silver, so he took them to the high priests and offered them back, saying, "I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood." But they answered, "What is that to us?" and refused to take it. Judas thereupon threw the money down and went out and hanged himself. The priests did not know what to do with this blood money, and finally used it to buy a "potter's field"—a place where the very poor could be buried. To this day the burial place of the outcast is called "pot-

COLUMBUS VOTES
DOWN ANOTHER
GAS FIRM PLAN

COLUMBUS, March 15—For the second time in less than a week, Columbus city council today had turned down a proposal of the Ohio
Fuel Gas Co., seeking settlement of the 15-year-old gas rate controversy.

In a reversal of sentiment, the council unanimously turned down a proposed 61-cent rate and the return to consumers of $1,292,165 in impounded funds. Following the vote, spokesmen for the company indicated that the matter would be arbitrated no longer, but would be carried to court.

At Monday night's regular session, council turned down an average rate of 63 cents per thousand cubic feet and the return of a lesser refund.

At present consumers are paying an average rate of 56.22 cents, fixed last fall by the state utilities commission. Both the city and the company have appealed this rate.

JUDGE CROW FILES
LIMA, March 15—Judge Phil

TREASURY SAYS '39 COLLECTION MILLIONS LOWER

National Income For Year Under 1938, Change In Profits Levy Cited

York is expected to supply about 50 percent, Illinois 8 percent and Pennsylvania 7 percent.

March and June income tax collections plus other revenues expected during the next three months will enable the treasury to operate close to a balanced budget between now and the end of June.

Expenditures over the next three and one half months will total $2,500,000,000 while receipts are forecast at $2,000,000,000 during this period.

To Decide New Taxes

The amount represented by today's returns will give some indication whether new taxes must be levied to cover the $460,000,000 emergency national defense item included in President Roosevelt's 1941 budget. Therefore, congressional leaders anxious to escape the onerous tax question in a campaign year, checked the returns carefully.

Indication of increased revenues during the next year, together with congressional appropriation cuts, would make proposed new taxes unnecessary, some observers predicted.

AIRPLANE RIDER CAUSES FATAL FALL INTO BAY

NEW YORK, March 15—Police and coastguardsmen were grappling in New York Bay today for the body of a demented plane passenger who fought a mid-air duel with the pilot, finally causing their small monoplane to crash with serious injury to the aviator.

The passenger was tentatively identified as Emanuel Eisenberg, 35, a well known Broadway publicity agent and author. His associates reported he had been depressed recently.

The pilot, Joseph Rosmarin, 38, an aviation instructor who flew for the Loyallists in Spain, was in Jersey City hospital with two broken legs and other injuries.

Rosmarin said the passenger first engaged him at Floyd Bennett field for flying lessons and after they had taken off asked to be taken on a sightseeing trip. The man first attempted to leap from the plane and after being pulled back and quieted attacked him with a pair of pliers, according to Rosmarin's story. The pilot said he lost control of the plane after being slugged but managed to clear the downtown New York skyscrapers and pancake the plane into the bay near Jersey City. As the crew of a nearby tugboat lifted the plane from the water and rescued Rosmarin, a body toppled out of the wrecked craft into the harbor.

Chief Justice John Crystalski refused the writ after considering the plea a full week. Any further action, he said, must be taken by the governor or a higher court.

Bloff was remanded to jail and released immediately under the $5,000 bond that he posted after he returned from Chicago to Hollywood.

Although confined to his room with a slight case of gripple, the President, through his Secretary Stephen T. Early, sharply criticized Tobey for "openly advising the public to violate the law" by refusing to answer census questions pertaining to income.

Sumner Welles, However, To Tell President Chances Are 1,000 To One

The Daily Sketch said Welles' European visit has proved that "America is likely to play a big diplomatic part in future European developments" and that London and Paris are convinced Welles' tour is a preliminary to a visit during or after the war of a still more important American emissary.

No Compromise Possible

Intimate conversations with London authorities, the Sketch continued, convinced Welles that the Allies will make no compromise with Nazi Germany.

The Sketch added it had gathered that Welles was not favorably impressed by the German case and had found one great weakness in Germany—an "intellectual blackout."

According to the paper Mussolini in his conversations with Welles drew a picture of Italy's imperial ambitions and of Il Duce's own anxiety to crown his life's work with an assurance of the permanence of the Italian empire.

One of the dominant impressions that Welles will take home with him, the Sketch said, is that Europe needs security.

Food Institute will prepare several unusual servings.

Party Foods Presented

The third and final day will be devoted to party foods in an intriguing program called "After Hours In The Kitchen." Every housewife who does any entertaining at all will be tremendously interested in this session.

Many new features are included in this year's Cooking School. One which adds a new exciting note is the use of the "Magic Mirrors" to better visualize the cooking demonstrations to the audience. All programs will be conducted in a model all-glass kitchen of latest design and equipped with all the up-to-the-minute improvements in appliances.

Free Prizes at Every Session

Free door prizes will be given away at every session of the Food Institute. The long list of merchandise and food prizes is headed by a gas range. Other prizes include a 3-quart sauce pan and cover, a 6-piece kitchen utility set, two ovenware platters and 24 large baskets of groceries.

Republicans Listed

Governor Bricker headed the list of Republican delegates-at-large. Others were Chairman Schorr; David S. Ingalls, Cleveland; Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Cincinnati; Grove Patterson, Toledo; Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati; John Galvin, Lima, and Lawrence O. Payne, Cleveland.

Alternate G.O.P. delegates were Wade DeWoody, Akron; Mrs. Blanche Bowman, Bellevue; Albert Dalton, Fairview; Mrs. Margaret Barnes, Oberlin; Mrs. Mary Mercer, Bowling Green; Evan M. Chase, Toledo; John T. Brown, Madison County, and Robert S. Beightler, Upper Arlington.

The Ohio delegation is pledged to Sen. Robert A. Taft as first choice for president, and to Charles Montgomery, Newark, as second choice.

Davey, who has promised to refrain from attacking other Democratic gubernatorial aspirants, blasted at Governor Bricker in announcing that his own nominating petitions would be filed during the day.

He said he had been "literally swamped with letters and telegrams ringing with enthusiasm that is certain evidence of victory."

Bricker "Weakness" Hit

"They all report our situation vastly improved over 1938," Davey continued. "The most significant thing that we read in all these letters is the widespread weakness of Governor Bricker not only among Democrats but among innumerable Republicans. They show that countless thousands of Republicans regard Governor Bricker as weak, selfish and inhuman. They are waiting only for the chance to retire him to private life."

Davey said he was convinced that he would be nominated for governor by the Democrats.

FIREMEN WASH LAUNDRY

LONDON—Firemen at Hornchurch, Essex, are not too pleased these days. They have been ordered by the local authorities to wash their own laundry. Under this new ordinance a saving of twenty-five cents a week will be made.

WASHINGTON, March 15—A resolution calling on President Roosevelt to break off diplomatic relations between the United States and Russia was formally introduced in the senate today by Senator Clark (D) of Idaho.

The measure was immediately referred to the senate foreign relations committee.

Sharp condemnation of Russia's "unwarranted aggression" and a declaration that Russia failed to observe the 1933 Litvinov agreement under which the United States recognized the Soviet Union was included in a series of "whereas" provisions at the outset of the resolution.

Immediately after Clark's action, Senator Brown (D) of Michigan backed him up by introducing a bill which would remove all restrictions from any loans made by the United States to Finland.

Brown pointed out that he sent Borwn pointed that the senate recently approved a $20,000,000 loan to Finland by increasing funds of the export-import bank. Under the provisions of the loan, however, the money must be used to buy non-military supplies. This restriction would be removed under Brown's bill.

WASHINGTON, March 15—President Roosevelt today took direct issue with Republican Senator Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire over the nature of the 1940 questionnaire forms.

Although confined to his room with a slight case of gripple, the President, through his Secretary Stephen T. Early, sharply criticized Tobey for "openly advising the public to violate the law" by refusing to answer census questions pertaining to income.

Former Mayor Addison Q. Thacher of Toledo that he would oppose Gov. John W. Bricker in the Republican gubernatorial primary was followed by the withdrawal of Raymond Jeffreys, Cleveland, the only other Republican who had announced as a G. O. P. candidate for governor.

Jeffreys said he would support Thacher for governor and would be a candidate for the state senate in Cuyahoga County.

Thus far only former Congressman John McSweeney, of Wooster, has filed for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator. Three candidates have filed for the Republican nomination, Mayor Harold Burton of Cleveland; Congressman Dudley White of Norwalk, and Charles E. Wharton of Kenton.

Chairman Ed D. Schorr filed nominating petitions for the G. O. P. national convention delegates-at-large. There were eight, each of whom will have a full vote at the convention.

Canton, Amanda Liked In State Court Tourney

By Russell Fuller

COLUMBUS, March 15—A fast, rugged Canton McKinley five and a determined Amanda quintet from Fairfield County today became favorites to cop the state high school Class A and Class B basketball tournaments.

The McKinley and Amanda outfits were the class of the 32 teams in the annual tourney yesterday. McKinley, surprisingly gifted, completely outclassed Martins Ferry, 48 to 23, and Amanda sneaked over a 23 to 22 win over a favored Sandusky St. Marys five.

Those two teams led the chase into the second round and their games today against Findlay and Glenford, respectively, featured the eight game docket in the Coliseum.

Today's pairings Class A: Massillon vs. Akron Buchtel, 3 p. m.; McKinley vs. Findlay, 4 p. m.; Cincinnati Woodward vs. Dayton Fairview, 8 p. m.; Akron South vs. New Philadelphia, 9 p. m.

Class B: Willshire vs. New Carlisle, 1 p. m.; Smithfield vs. Midvale, 2 p. m.; Glenford vs. Amanda, 6 p. m.; Canfield vs. Holgate, 7 p. m.

Yesterday's scores: Class A — Massillon 25; Bellefontaine 23; Akron Buchtel 26, Defiance 24; McKinley 48, Martins Ferry, 23; Findlay 36; Marietta 23; Cincinnati Woodward 21, Canton Lehman 19; Dayton Fairview 43, Toledo Waite 32; Akron South 35, Columbus Central 30; New Philadelphia 34, Bellevue 31.

Class B: Willshire 29, Marysville 21; New Carlisle 52, Waynesburg 35; Smithfield 28, Germantown 25; Midvale 43, Bluffton 32; Glenford 46, Rittman 32; Amanda 23, Sandusky St. Marys 22; Canfield 45, Hanover 37; Holgate 48, Kitts Hill 33.

The first day's firing drew 2-715 spectators at the afternoon session in the Coliseum and 4,000 at night. Approximately 3,300 persons attended the two Class B sessions in the Ohio State University gymnasium.

Dark Horse Strong

By far, the most thrilling contest was the bitter and at times vicious struggle between New Philadelphia and Bellevue, a dark horse contender.

Originally favored to win the crown, New Philadelphia, undefeated this year, ran into a stone wall and won out 34 to 31 in the last few seconds only after guards Benjamin and Brown slipped in a pair of hurried field goals.

The aggressive New Philly five took an early 11 to four lead. But at halftime, the Bellevue outfit was ahead 18 to 16. At the third quarter, New Philly led 25 to 22. During the final stanza, the score saw-sawed back and forth until New Philadelphia, in one final surge, pushed through to victory.

McKinley, in routing Martins Ferry, slumped behind early in the first quarter, but returned in the second period to blind the losers with a dazzling offensive attack. Guard Carnes was high point man for McKinley with 11 while A. Joseph led Martins Ferry with five.

Bellefontaine made only five of its 17 free throws and thus could attribute its loss to Massillon to that failing. Otherwise, the Logan County representatives were in the same class with their conquerors. Massillon led at the first quarter, 7 to 2, and 10 to eight at the half. The score was knotted at 18 at the end of the third period. Horace Gillom, dusky center tallied 11 points for Massillon while center Hildreth made 13 for Bellefontaine.

Guard Hits Hoop

The Defiance-Buchtel fray was nip-and-tuck with Monty Williams, Negro guard, tossing in two free throws in the final seconds to bring victory to Buchtel.

A forward named Warren "Bullet" Bell made 20 points and led Findlay to its one sided margin over Marietta.

The Woodward-Lehman contest was listless. Woodward clinched the match in the third quarter when forward Hake tossed in a bucket. Lehman counted the only two markers recorded in the last period.

Scoring 22 points, Ken Huddleston, flashy center, paced Dayton Fairview to its decisive victory over an inconsistent Toledo Waite

YANKEES TOO GOOD FOR ACES OF REDLEG STAFF

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15—After baffling the Cincinnati Reds again yesterday 5 to 3, the New York Yankees take on their city rivals, the New York Giants, in a spring exhibition game today. Two young Yankee pitchers, Marv Russo and Marv Breuer, stopped the Reds and their two star pitchers, Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer.

C. A. C. TOURNEY RESUMES PLAY

Two Columbus Teams Vie At 8:30; Chillicothe Meets Newark

The Circleville Athletic Club's second annual cage tournament resumes Friday evening with four teams remaining in competition that has been brilliant and in some instances bitter. The survivors of tonight's contests will tangle Saturday evening for the tourney championship.

Festivities begin at 7:30 Friday evening with Stout's Pure Oil team playing a preliminary with a foe as yet unnamed.

At 8:30 the first semi-final joust is on the books between two fast Columbus teams, the Federal Glass and Gosnell Funeral Home quintets. At 9:30 Chillicothe City Club will tangle with the fast Newark Gasco quintet, favored by many to win the tournament title.

Federal Glass and Gosnell should provide a real fight, both teams being paced by star cagers who are capable of turning in brilliant basketball. The Chillicothe City Club, with Wilford Cropp as the most dangerous point maker, will be faced with the task of stopping Buddy Mercer, ex-Newark High star, and his cohorts.

ST. LOU CHEAPER THAN FLORIDA, SAYS MEDWICK

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 15—The sunshine at St. Petersburg, Fla., has no attraction for Joe Medwick, slugging St. Louis Cardinal holdout, and he will leave for the Cardinals' training camp there only when attractive inducements are offered, Medwick said today. Sitting tight at nearby Sappington, Mo., his home, the outfielder admitted he had received a letter from Branch Rickey, the Cardinals' general manager, but said Rickey was strangely silent about the salary issue. "I was in St. Petersburg until a week ago, but I came back because its cheaper to live here," Medwick commented.

UNCLE SAM PUTS TOUCH ON TONY FOR INCOME TAX

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, March 15—Uncle Sam caught up with Tony Galento today and the old boy with the whiskers scored an easy decision over the Jersey fat boy.

The bout was held in the office of the federal income-tax collector where for 12 long hours Tony, ably supported by Joe Jacobs, stormed and raged, begged and pleaded, wheedled and cajoled.

But all in vain for in the end he had to cough up with a large slice of the $90,000 you may be surprised to learn he earned last year.

"Now I simply gotta get that Philadelphia shot wit' Joe Louis," said Tony hoarsely. "Them Philadelphia lugs is offering him a hunnert grand and that's more'n I make in me best year. And the guvment puts the bite on me for most of that, I'm gonna see Mike Jacobs today and have him make that Louis meet me again."

However, Louis, the financier, merely waived a disinterested languid hand when the $100,000 guarantee was mentioned. That sum represents a life's ambition to Galento but it's just a minor annoyance to Joe.

The tax battle, as recounted by Joe Jacobs, was amusing to everybody but Galento. "You see," explained Joe, "Tony battles around for 10 years for cakes and coffee and he never makes enough for Uncle Sam to bother about."

NEW RUMORS OF SALE OF YANKS BRINGS DENIALS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15—The newest rumors that the world-champion New York Yankees are about to be sold, this time to a syndicate headed by Former Governor F. P. Murphy of New Hampshire, simmered away today in denials from those who should know.

Vice-President George Ruppert repeated an earlier denial by President Ed Barrow that negotiations were under way or near completion with a group headed by Murphy.

Barrow revealed, however, that there have been "many nibbles" for the Yankees and that the club can be had for something like $6,000,000 in cash. The list of prospective purchasers has narrowed down to one man and his associates but the man isn't Murphy, according to Barrow.

Under the will of Col. Jacob Ruppert, the consent of all four trustees of his estate is necessary to consummate a sale. Besides Barrow and George Ruppert, the other trustees are Attorney Byron Clark and Harry Sillick, Ruppert's brother-in-law.

AIRPORT MEETING SET FOR ROSS COUNTIANS

CHILLICOTHE, March 15—Plans were perfected here for an aviation meeting here March 28 following a conference between J. H. Dubuque, engineer of the state department of aeronautics, and leaders sponsoring the establishment of a municipal airport.

The session will be attended by civic leaders, city officials, businessmen, members of aviation committees from various fraternal and civic organizations that have endorsed the program.

"Chillicothe is in a very advantageous position so far as the development of commercial flying is concerned," Dubuque said. "Forward-looking businessmen who will go into the picture will find that airmail, passenger service and other aviation activities are developing around southern Ohio."

He added that Wellston and Jackson are slated for airmail service upon the approval of the route by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Gathering relative data and working out the costs of the various types of installation on the different proposed sites became the first steps of the group.

The city has set aside $125,000 for the construction of a soft water plant as an addition to the recently acquired municipal plant at a cost of $700,000.

OPEN LETTERS

TO MOTORISTS

DRIVERS: Traffic conditions in Circleville, as many of you have noted, have been improved beyond any doubt since the first of the year and many of you are to be thanked for cooperating with the safety campaign being conducted by the city safety department. Since the city put a patrolman on duty to check traffic the situation has become steadily better until now a marked improvement is noted. You know by now that Circleville's effort to improve traffic conditions is not a racket, but a definite, progressive program designed to help every one who drives an automobile and every one who walks on the streets of the county seat. Much credit must go to Miller Fissell, who is in charge of the traffic division of the city police force. His work has been excellent. He hasn't arrested every person who has violated a city statute, but he has warned many persons that arrests will follow for a second violation. The only citations into court have been to persons responsible for flagrant violations of the law, persons who have endangered the lives of others. An apparent improvement is noted in the various school districts, through instructions to children who cross the busy thoroughfares; garages are cooperating in helping to keep main highways open, and even the livestock sale organization is doing its best to keep trucks and cars from blocking streets in the vicinity of the sale barn. The whole thing in a nut shell is a question of cooperation, autoists doing their best to abide by the statutes set up by the city administration for traffic through the city. There are still some persons who believe they can run a red light, or can park in restricted zones, or can travel through an alley at a rate of speed dangerous to themselves and to any others that they might meet therein. Within a couple of weeks new statutes will become effective including one ordering parallel parking on Main Street. This ordinance was passed as an effort to correct conditions on that thoroughfare, and city officials hope that it will work. Other new legislation covers the speed of trucks through the city, and you can take it from all persons with authority that the law will be enforced to the letter.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By— Charles P. Stewart

NATIONAL straw polls continue to indicate Tom Dewey as the strongest probability for the Republican nomination next summer, with Senator Robert A. Taft in third place at best. In Washington, where politicians are concentrated, the local verdict favors Taft rather than Dewey.

Of course, Washington's preference should be interpreted as implying that Taft would run more favorably than Dewey the country over. Chances are that the rank-and-file of straw voters know what they're talking about as to ELECTION day, but the professional politicians may be better guessers relative to the NOMINATION.

The idea's this: The general public fancies that it picks presidential candidates. The bosses, however, pick the candidates between whom the general public makes its final selection. The general public, in short, has precious little voice concerning the doings at our big quadrennial conventions. The party managers run them. If they don't like an aspirant he stands mightily little show of being named as his outfit's standard bearer, no matter how popular he may be with mere ordinary voters.

NEW YORK'S FAMOUS CONVENTION

There was an example of this at

Each church in the community will be conducting its own rites, and all members of all congregations should be present to participate in the religious services appropriate to the season. Palm Sunday, which is being observed day after tomorrow, is always one of the outstanding days of the church year, and all church auditoriums should be crowded. The annual Union service of Circleville churches will be held this year on Good Friday in the United Brethren Church with the Rev. W. D. Ramsey delivering the sermon. I hope that all Circleville business houses and industries that can possibly do so will close their doors from 2 to 3 p. m., the hour during which the service will be conducted.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CANDIDATES

POLITICIANS: This evening at 6:30 o'clock marks the deadline for filing petitions for various county and state offices, and after that will begin the scramble for votes in Circleville, Pickaway County, the state and the whole nation for that matter. Pickaway County has many outstanding persons seeking office, and I feel certain that voters of the county are able enough to pick the persons they wish to represent them in office. Here is a plea to all candidates: please make your campaigns as clean as possible. It does you little good to run down another candidate hoping that you will be benefitted. You've often heard the adage: "A knock is a boost", well it holds true in elections, too.

CIRCUITEER.

TO ADELPHIANS

VILLAGERS: To persons who witnessed your valiant fight against fire that threatened your village last week the efforts of all of you put forth were noble. Without the service of a crew of volunteer fire-fighters the village might have suffered much greater damage than it did. The need for well organized volunteer fire departments in the villages of the district is imperative, and those that do not have volunteer units right now should do something about organizing them. They may be needed, and at any time. The arrival of the new pumper truck for rural service should make some of you who live in the cooperating townships feel more secure, because this equipment will be available at all hours. However, miracles should not be expected of the pumper because oftentimes it may be necessary for the equipment to travel so far that property burning may be destroyed before it can reach its destination. Persons calling the Circleville department for the truck should be very specific about instructing firemen concerning locations.

TO LIBRARY WORKERS

FRIENDS: Your report of book lending for 1939 is an excellent one, and proves that the library is enjoying the greatest use in its history. Persons in Circleville and Pickaway County who have probably never before taken advantage of the splendid volumes on the shelves of your institution are now reading regularly, and enjoying themselves. The library is doing an excellent job, and I hope that it continues, because the institution is really a necessary one for all of us. Congratulations go to all who have had any part in making the library the success that it is.

the celebrated New York Democratic convention which nominated John W. Davis for the White House.

Throughout the nation a big majority of Democrats unquestionably were for William G. McAdoo. Newton D. Baker made a pro-McAdoo speech that was a humdinger. The spectators in the galleries went wild over it. If the occupants of those galleries had been entitled to cast their ballots, William G. would have been nominated in a walk. Nobody present questioned it.

But the convention bosses vetoed the obvious party verdict. In all likelihood the time wasn't ripe for a Democratic victory that year, anyway. Yet assuredly McAdoo wouldn't have been snowed under at the polls as badly as Davis was. The fact remains, it was a demonstration of the usual rule that, while the "peepul" frequently do the electing, the bosses generally attend to the nominating.

The entire electorate, to be controlled, has to be spell-bound. A convention can be managed.

The point is that management precedes spell-binding.

DEWEY VERSUS TAFT

Now, Tom Dewey relies on spell-binding. He's a genius at it—by far Taft's superior.

Tom, though, has neglected the fixing of the G. O. P. high commanders. Taft has concentrated on THEM. His notion is that the

How U. S. Rates In Meat Eating

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Don't Americans eat too much meat? Do they eat more meat than people of other countries?

The actual statistics show that in the year 1937, the last year for which figures were available, the United States averaged 137 pounds of meat per person, as compared to 300 pounds for Argentina, 205 for Australia and 138 for Canada.

The United States consumes a quarter as much lamb per average capita as the inhabitants of the British Isles. If the consumption of meats and lard were increased in the United States to equal the four leading meat-eating countries, we would have to produce 10,000,000 more cattle, or 60 per cent more slaughter. If the entire increase fell on hogs, we would have to produce as much pork as we now produce.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

than the present total annual duce 80,000,000, or 150 per cent more than the total annual slaughter.

Treatment of Refractory Ringworms

What is the treatment of refractory ringworm?

This correspondent writes that she has an eruption on the palm of the hand. It has been diagnosed as ringworm and the scales have been found to have mycelium threads on microscopic examination. She has had a number of forms of treatment and says that she is using very strong medicaments.

This is a common problem of the dermatologist. The trouble is probably in using too strong medication. The ringworm is a great sensitizer and produces sensitization of the skin so that it is difficult to treat with strong fungicides.

When fissures and pus infection are present, one of the best applications is ammoniated mercury ointment. After the fissures have healed, a crude coal tar ointment,

Proving Hazards of Farming

Is farming the safest occupation?

No. Reports show that farming is an exceedingly dangerous occupation, the hazards of which are not universally appreciated. Fractures, lacerations, contusions, incised wounds, dislocations, burns, frost-bites, gunshot wounds—all these are natural occupational hazards of farming. These injuries are inflicted by tools, animals, machines, vehicles, falling trees, heat and cold.

In a medium-sized rural hospital, agricultural accidents were responsible for nearly one-fourth of all the injuries treated.

THE KILLER SPEAKS

RICHARD HOUGHTON

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:

1. Billy Strickland, am suspected in the murder of my friend, Alfred Markham, rich young jeweler, at a party in the Rio Vista clubhouse. Jerry Montcalm, another friend, although he is engaged to Muriel Benson, the girl I had once hoped to marry, is another suspect, because it was he who first stumbled over the body in the moonlight garden at the tip of the river bank on which the clubhouse stands. Captain of Detectives Clyde McDonald decides to test my alibi that I was upstairs when Markham supposedly was killed. He sends me up, to time my actions. But I am desperate. I remember that I dropped my knife in the garden. Afraid that it will be damning evidence against me, I decide to get down into the garden somehow, and retrieve the knife before it is found by the police or by Coroner Silver.

CHAPTER SEVEN

THE VERY difficulties in the way of my descending to the garden comprised the strength of my alibi, for if I could get down into the garden now the police would say I could also have gotten down to kill Markham, I told myself. Perhaps by finding a way down now I would destroy my alibi. But I must take a chance.

There was only one exit that might be unguarded—the kitchen door on the north side of the lower story. The cook and waitress had been sitting there earlier in the night. They might be gone now. There was no stairway down to the kitchen, except the one up which I had come, but there was a light well at the end of the hall, and I judged by its location that the kitchen opened into it.

I ran on tiptoe to the end of the hall and opened the window into the light well. Yes, there was a light shining out of the window directly below me. It seemed to be the right place for the kitchen—and I heard no voices.

Taking this only chance which was open to me, I slipped through the upper window and hung by my hands as far down as I could reach, feeling with my toes until I located the top of the window below. Then gripping a water pipe I lowered myself hand under hand to the kitchen window sill and looked in. There was not a soul in sight. The dirty dishes were piled on the table as though they had been left until tomorrow.

Luckily, on account of the warm night and the heat of cooking, the window from the light well into the kitchen had been left open. I crawled through it, dropped to the floor and sped swiftly to the outer door. A moment later I was out under the stars beside the river, in the deep shadow of the northwest corner of the building.

Remembering what St. Clair had said about the path around the north wing at low tide, I took off my shoes, hid them in the ash can at the kitchen door, pulled my trouser legs up over my knees and waded into the cold water. Feeling my way along the wall, I found the footing solid underneath and gained the dry land at the northwest corner of the clubhouse without getting into any water more than a foot deep.

I let my trouser legs down again and peered around the corner into the moonlight of the garden. One of the police officers was walking slowly back and forth by the lily pond, studying the ground.

He was so intent on his search that I skirted around behind him quietly in my bare feet and gained the rose arbor without attracting his attention.

My heart had quickened its beat. My time was going rapidly. Jerry came out on schedule and walked toward the lily pond to re-enact the finding of the body. The police officer nearly upset the program by detaining him.

It was now or never. While they argued I felt hastily about in the grass in the arbor where I knew the knife had fallen. It was not there.

I remembered exactly where it had lain, beside a large white stone. Had someone else found it?

Jerry was going back into the clubhouse. I had not even a second to spare. In fact, the odds were now against my being able to get back upstairs in time to come down the stairway on schedule.

The policeman was watching Jerry. I turned and ran straight for the willows, bending low. I intended to dodge along the sandy shore of the river to the north wing of the clubhouse again. I prayed that no one had returned to the kitchen.

It was dark under the trees. Something blacker than a shadow loomed before me. Arms like steel clamped around me, pinioned my hands to my sides.

This was no policeman. It was a giant of a man, smelling of bad liquor. I tried to wrench loose, but he was too strong and I dared not scuffle to make a noise.

Suddenly one of his arms drew back. There was a swishing sound and then a blinding light.

I awoke to find my head throbbing as though it had been split. I was looking up at the starlit sky. Lying on my back on hard boards. My whole bed swayed. It was a small boat. Water splashed and gurgled gently against the sides.

When I tried to move I found that my wrists were tied together under me. There was a choking gag in my mouth. I closed my eyes and lapsed into unconsciousness again.

How many minutes later it was before I opened my eyes a second time. I had no way of knowing. I was still in the boat. There sounded the slow swish and splash of a muffled oar. I could not see the boatman, who apparently was seated behind my head, paddling the boat like a canoe. At my feet—I could just raise my head enough to see them—were several sacks bulging oddly.

The sides of the boat were so high that I could see nothing of the shore, but presently from ahead I noticed a dark shape looming up as we approached it. Gradually it took the form of a roof. We were drifting up to some old building. It looked like a deserted warehouse standing high on piles beside the river. Not a light shone from it anywhere.

I scarcely had time to notice that there were branches of trees hanging over the building, when we glided under the wharf or pier. Momentarily I saw the dim outline of piles rising around us, then all melted into the pitch darkness.

The boatman must have known the course well, or perhaps he was guided by a light I could not see. The steady splash of the muffled oar continued. Twice the boat bumped into something, veered off and continued. The jar and accompanying shiver of the boat sent the pain shooting through my head again.

At last a dim glow shone up ahead and a moment later a lantern came into sight, hanging from a beam overhead. I had to shut my eyes until they became accustomed to the light. The boat stopped. Feet scraped near my head and the whole craft rocked dizzily as the boatman stepped out on an invisible landing.

He looked to be about 20 feet tall as he stood over me. The lantern was above his head, and in the shadow of his hat I could not make out his face or much about him. Even his size was distorted. Looking up at him this way from a position several inches below his feet, he was all out of proportion.

Unexpectedly he reached up and took down the lantern, turning his back to me as he blew it out. I felt myself lifted from the boat by arms that seemed to have Herculean strength. I am no featherweight.

My captor set me on my feet and roughly pushing from behind, started me walking through the darkness. I had no way of telling at what moment I might step off into a hole or trap of some sort, but the floor continued level and smooth underfoot.

Today's Garden-Graph

Speeding-up Rhubarb Rhubarb can be enjoyed by the home-gardener about three weeks earlier than Nature normally would provide it, by subjecting it to the speeding-up process. This calls for covering selected crowns of the plants in the open ground with barrels, kegs or boxes.

As soon as the rhubarb sprouts appear, cover them with a barrel from which top and bottom have been removed, as shown in the above GARDEN-GRAPH. Place an eight-inch layer of manure the bottom of each barrel as illustrated. This provides warmth for the plants and encourages the growth of extra large stalks. If the weather is unusually cold or windy, the top of the barrel can be partly covered to protect the plants.

Speeding-up rhubarb by this means does not injure the plant. The barrel can be removed after the plant is in normal production, but the manure should be left heaped about it as a mulch. Do not attempt to force poor-looking, or weak crowns, but select only strong, sturdy ones.

LIBRARY REPORT DISCLOSES 134,908 VOLUMES USED DURING 1939

NEED FOR MORE FINANCES CITED BY EXECUTIVE

Budget Must Be Boosted If Present Service Is To Be Continued

FIGURES ARE STRESSED

Many Contributions Made During Last Year By Patrons

Declaring that the Circleville Public Library's book circulation in 1939 totaled 134,908 volumes which included large increases in circulation during the year was $7,029; the total for the main library, 47,879.

In starting his report, Mr. Pfoutz writes: "If the growth of an institution such as a library is indicated by the increase of work necessary to carry it on and by the number of books circulated and the borrowers registered, the trustees and citizens may be congratulated on the growth of the Public Library."

"The trustees have given much time and thought to the growing crowded conditions of the library and have made it possible for the library to add a row of new steel stacks. These stacks should care for the immediate needs. Along with the stacks, new stack-lights were installed which immediately proved to be an aid to the library patrons and staff who have found both pleasure and comfort in them."

Budget Needs Cited

Mr. Pfoutz went on in his report saying that the continuation of the present service cannot be assured unless an increase is provided in the library budget. "Unless new equipment and new books can be purchased," he wrote, "it will be necessary to sacrifice many of the gains that have been made within the last few years. Books in the library are in poor condition and many of the books for children should be replaced with new editions, well illustrated, with good print. Or they should be rebound."

The librarian declared that the appropriation for new books should be doubled at least.

The assistance of the WPA in the work of the library is noted in the report. A bookmobile assistant is provided, a full-time typist, a full-time page who shelves books and does other similar work, and a full-time book-mender are provided for the library.

Two hundred and sixty-four books were added to the library's shelves during the last year through donations from the following: Lillian Jones, G. D. McDowell, the Rev. L. C. Sherburne, Charles Hill, Mrs. Harold Silbaugh, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Alice Morrow, Elizabeth Dunlap, Yale University, Pickaway Plains Chapter D. A. R., Mrs. Clark Will, Mrs. Florence R. Jones, Oxford University Press, Geneva Speakman, Alice O'Day, Pickaway County W. C. T. U., Mrs. Brunelle P. Downing, Miss Moodie, James Swearingen, Ohio State Library, Joe M. Lynch, Walter Petty, W. W. Siebert, Mrs. David Sanders, Margaret Hunsicker, Mrs. Charles Gerhardt, E. A. Ballou, J. W. Johnson, Mary Daley, S. Croman and Mrs. R. H. Tegardin.

Figures Provided
Collections for 1939 included: fines, $218.73; non-resident fees, $8.50; fines on truck, $25.31, a total of $252.54.

The circulation total for the year, main library and county combined, follows: general works, 139; philosophy, 739; religion, 632; sociology, 3,112; language, 372; science, 1,793; useful arts, 3,980; fine arts, 3,341; literature, 2,801; history, 1,697; travel, 3,175; biography, 3,917; periodicals, 436; pamphlets, 262; fiction, 106,954; rental, 2,532; pictures, 14;
